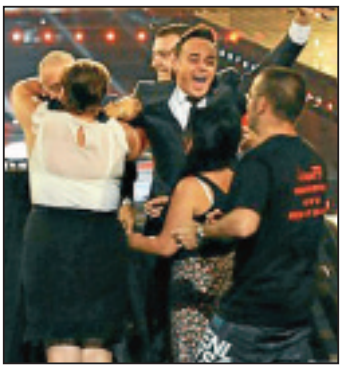
Carer, 44, wins game show million – on the spin of a wheel

KEVIN'S RED LETTER DAY

Carer Kevin Cartwright is now a millionaire

A tense Kevin Cartwright during the live final of the game show Red or Black?

Kevin presses the button to see where the ball will land on the giant roulette wheel



Ant McPartlin joins in the family's celebrations

A GAME show contestant from Cannock has become an instant millionaire – on the spin of a roulette wheel.

More than eight million viewers tuned in to see Kevin Cartwright land the life-changing fortune on Sunday night on the new live ITV show Red or Black?, hosted by Ant and Dec.

The 44-year-old showed nerves of steel to land himself the windfall, which means his partner Nicola Dawson can now receive the very best treatment available for a rare blood disorder, called hyperlipidaemia.

Kevin, a former coach driver, revealed that his only interest in the money was to provide a better quality of life for his 38-year-old fiancée, with treatment available in the United States.

Her own emotions were clear to see as she rushed on to the stage with friends and family who were in the audience of the show hosted by Geordie pair Ant McPartlin and Dec Donnelly.

When Ant asked if it seemed real, Kevin could only reply "No."

Kevin, aged 44, is a full-time carer for Nicola and plans to use his winnings to treat her incurable blood disease.

"We have had a really rough time. Nicola is in a lot of pain. I have found a revolutionary treatment in America.

"It won't cure her but will give her a better quality of life," he said.

Guessed

"I am in complete shock, I still can't believe it happened. I watched the ball land and I thought that was it. I couldn't focus, I thought I was in a dream, I'm shocked."

Kevin, who lives on the Rumer Hill estate, said he nearly did not go to Wembley Arena, where the first round of the show was held, because Nicola was not feeling well.

"Nicola wasn't feeling herself but she encouraged me to go," he said.

"The first thing I am going to do with the money is to take her on a holiday to the United States," he added.

The show is produced by Simon Cowell's Syco TV and has cost £7 million to screen, making it Britain's most expensive ever TV quiz show. The opening night attracted viewing figures of more than 10 million. Kevin said: "Simon Cowell was watching the show and came up to us on stage and congratulated me afterwards.

He said I had him on the edge of my seat the way that ball was spinning."

Kevin correctly guessed the right outcome in 10 rounds throughout the show, as other contestants fell by the wayside.

His journey started at Wembley with thousands of other hopefuls and ended in the live final when he beat Ian Wesbury.

Shocked

To win the £1 million, he correctly guessed the destination of the roulette ball, landing in red. As the roulette ball spun it appeared to have landed on black, but one final bounce brought it to a halt on a red slot.

Kevin repeated "unreal, unreal, unreal" and shook his head in disbelief and muttered "Thank you" to hosts Ant and Dec.

Afterwards, Nicola rushed on stage with family and friends to share his joy.

Nicola, who has a 14-year-old daughter Jodie from a previous relationship, fell ill after being diagnosed with pancreatitis four years ago after becoming unwell on holiday in Rome.

Her father Keith, of Albert Street, Cannock, said doctors initially thought it was gallstones.

He said: "Her operation is so expensive, we can't get anything done on the NHS. This money will change her world.

"It's the reason Kevin went down to London – to get the money for the operation."

The 64-year-old retired lorry driver, remained at home while Nicola's mother Gloria, 61, and brothers Steven, Carl, Glen and their wives accompanied Kevin and Nicola to London.

Celebrations are thought to have continued into the night, after viewers heard Kevin promise to treat his family and friends to "a good drink".

Former Neighbours in Hannaford Way, where Kevin lived until a year about a year ago, said they had not realised he would be on the show.

Nichole McComb said: " I watched the show and did not even realise it was him. It was really exciting."

Brian Edge, who has lived in the street for 30 years, said: "I'm glad he won."

A WANNABE pop star has sung his way through to the regional finals of a national competition after wowing the judges with his vocals.

Cheslyn Hay youngster Reece McConnell performed at the Open Mic UK auditions in Birmingham and sailed through to the second stage where he will perform in the live showcase at the NEC on October 29.

Thousands of hopefuls entered the nationwide search but now Reece, aged 12, will battle it out to reach the London finals in a bid to bag a breakthrough recording contract.

Chris Grayston, head of Future Music, said: "We are searching for an act whose live performance will impress an audience, industry judges and A&R associates, and who has the potential to become a professional recording artist.

Agencies

"The standard was high last year and this year looks set to be even better."

If Reece, who is competing in the under 16 category, makes it to the final stage he will perform in front of some of the industry's biggest agencies.

The overall winner will then go on to appear at the O2 Live Fest, London's largest indoor festival, and on the Open Mic UK tour.

Hospitals' trust chairman steps down

THE chairman of the trust overseeing Cannock Chase and Stafford hospitals has announced he will step down in January.

Sir Stephen Moss – who joined Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust as non executive director in February 2009 before becoming chairman six months later – said the overriding task now was to restore public confidence in the troubled Stafford Hospital.

He added it had been a privilege to be "part of helping Stafford Hospital to get better".

Former chief executive Antony Sumara also finished his time at the trust earlier this year. Lyn Hill-Tout took over in June.

Sir Stephen will finish on January 31 next year and hospital bosses hope to have appointed a replacement by early December. He said: "By the end of January 2012 I will have been at Mid Staffs for three years and I have decided that the time is right for me to step down.

"It has been a great privilege to be part of helping Stafford Hospital to get better. I would like to pay tribute to all the staff, volunteers, governors and voluntary agencies who work with us and thank them for their loyalty and commitment.

"I am confident of a good future for both Stafford and Cannock Chase hospitals and I have always been impressed by the potential at both hospital sites.

"There is clear evidence that the trust is making progress but it still faces significant challenges, not least financial."

Sir Stephen also paid tribute to families who had been through "difficult" times. "I would like to pay tribute to the courage and dignity of those families who have been through difficult times over the last few years," he said.

"The overriding task now is to restore public confidence in the hospital. I would urge the local community to get behind our staff and support them in their continuing efforts to make things better."

Sir Stephen's whole career has been within the NHS. Originally from Cannock, he trained as a nurse at the Royal Wolverhampton Hospitals Trust and went on to become a director of nursing, chief executive and then a commissioner for the Commission for Health Improvement. He is now planning to spearhead a national campaign to improve nursing.

Funding bid made for new academy

A BID was being made this week for £9.7 million from the Department for Education to provide improved facilities at Hednesford's new Staffordshire University Academy.

The old Blake Valley Technology College in Marston Road has this week reopened under its new name.

At a special meeting of the cabinet of Staffordshire County Council yesterday (Wednesday), cabinet member for education and skills, Councillor Liz Staples, was recommending the bid be made to fund new buildings and refurbish some of the old ones.

Passes

The new academy is being sponsored by the university with the aim of starting construction work next March and all the work being completed by May 2014.

The aim for the new academy is to increase the number of pupils achieving five or more good passes at GCSE to at least the county average.

Previous Blake Valley head David Evans is now the academy's principal and he has been working closely with the university to ensure a smooth transition.

The academy, which was Blake High School until 2003, is being backed by Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley.

Decision on incinerator bid to be reconsidered

COUNCILLORS are to reconsider plans for a giant incinerator in Cannock.

Almost 100 people protested against the plans earlier this year for the waste-to-energy plant on land at Kingswood Lakeside Business Park near Norton Canes. It forms part of a £200 million expansion project proposed by Biffa at the Poplars landfill site.

Staffordshire County Council's planning committee will meet next Thursday, September 15, to consider the application by Biffa. The facility which could process up to 400,000 tonnes of non-hazardous waste every year.

A previous meeting of the committee voted to approve the application, but after concerns were expressed by some members, expert legal advice was requested.

As a result of this advice the committee will consider the decision anew.

The issue concerned whether an offer by Biffa to fund local community activities up to £80,000 could have been admissible in influencing the decision.

Debated

The legal advice has indicated that this offer should not have had any influence.

Tim Corbett, planning committee chairman, said: "Issues like this are always going to be controversial but this extra session of the committee will help ensure it is fully debated and every issue has been fully considered."

Around 240 journeys by heavy goods vehicles are expected daily at the site, which will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The previous decision to grant permission was branded as "disastrous" by Tory MPs Aidan Burley and Gavin Williamson, who represent Cannock Chase and South Staffordshire respectively.

Staff told office set to close

NEARLY 200 staff have been told their Department for Work and Pensions' benefit centre in Cannock is to close from December 9.

The centre is located above the JobCentre Plus offices in Beecroft Road.

Department spokesman Steve Milne said the closure would not affect the JobCentre. Staff at the benefit centre, which is a back office operation only dealing with queries made over the phone or online, will be redeployed in the local area.

"All staff affected by this will be offered jobs elsewhere in the organisation," said Mr Milne.

"This is about buildings, not people – we simply can't afford to carry on paying for buildings which aren't fully used."

It was announced in May that the centre was to shut as part of measures to improve efficiency,

Bar owner puts in bid for extra opening hours

A CANNOCK town centre bar is seeking permission to open until 3.30am seven days a week following a £100,000 extension.

The application for the bank bar and lounge in Wolverhampton Road comes from owner Alastair Payne, who was once the merchandise manager of Britpop megastars Blur.

The current licence allows the venue to stay open until 2am. However the new application involves extending the limit for music, dancing and serving food and alcohol to 3am with closure a half hour later to take effect from October 1.

The bar used to be a Lloyds TSB branch. It was most recently an office and had been empty for some time before opening as the bank bar and lounge in 2006. It became the first venue in the area to bring in a covered and heated smoking area before the ban was imposed in 2007.

The new extension, in what used to be the bank's vault, comprises a self-contained bar, stage, dance floor, private booths and a smoking garden.

It opened in June and holds about 120 people. Ten jobs were created for bar, door and catering staff.

Mr Payne said at the time that the new function room was a result of customer feedback and would fill a void in the town's night life.

High class

"The one thing which has always been missing is a dance floor which people often mentioned to me," he said.

The 44-year-old businessman designed and project-managed the expansion himself, hiring local tradesmen to build it. He described it as "high class and sophisticated".

The application has been lodged with Cannock Chase District Council and can be seen at the licensing unit in the Civic Centre in Beecroft Road.

Objections should be made before Thursday, September 29.

The fence around the travellers' site on the A449

Fury over fence around site

A SIX-and-half foot fence has been erected around a travellers site in Penkridge.

The fence has been put up to surround the site on the A449 Wolverhampton Road, which was granted permission in March despite protests from residents.

Council bosses have said the wooden structure, which has been partially painted green, does not breach any conditions.

Council spokesman Jamie Angus said the site had permission for a 20 caravan camp and said the boundary fence had been erected in accordance with planning regulations.

Parish Councillor Gordon Hawkins said the appearance of a larger fence had also fuelled concerns that the site may stay after planning permission expires in 2014.

Stolen haul belonged to Albion stalwarts

Cup medals theft has family reeling

A FAMILY has been devastated by the theft of the FA Cup winner's medals of a stalwart father and son who represented West Bromwich Albion.

Fred and Alan Everiss were the backbone of Albion for more than a century. The medals were stolen on a raid on a family member's home in Great Wyrley.

Thieves broke into the home of 66-year-old Pam Everiss while she was on holiday, also taking thousands of pounds of jewellery.

Alan Everiss, her late father-in-law, was a director and secretary at the Hawthorns for more than 65 years. One of the stolen medals was his. It was presented to him after the club's Wembley triumph over Everton in 1968.

The other medal belonged to his father Fred Everiss, the longest serving football manager in history, who was running the club in 1931 when the Baggies won the FA Cup for the first time – beating Birmingham City in the final. His stint at manager spanned 46 years, from 1902 to 1948.

The precious heirlooms were locked in a safe which the thieves wrenched from a bedroom wall after breaking in through a front bedroom window.

Mrs Everiss, who runs the Meteor garage in Lombard Street, West Bromwich, discovered the break-in when she returned from Spain on August 30. She is the widow of Alan's son David. Alan died in 1999.

Mrs Everiss said: "I didn't notice at first because they didn't touch the ground floor.

Devastated

"It was only when I went upstairs that I saw the damage and realised what had happened.It's so upsetting. As well as the cup medals, all the jewellery my late husband had given me over 40 years was stored in the safe. I'm devastated."

Among the jewellery stolen were two double pearl necklaces, a platinum choker, ruby earrings and a diamond engagement ring that belonged to her mother.

Son Chris, a 38-year-old digital marketing manager, also of Great Wyrley, said the stolen property was of huge sentimental value.

"We're very proud of the family's long association with Albion. The medals used to be kept in a bank vault – I didn't see them until I was 13.

"But, equally, the jewellery meant everything to my mother."

Worker in theft to pay back £5k

A FINANCIAL controller who stole nearly £400,000 from two firms she worked for has been forced to hand over just £5,200 in compensation.

Michelle Ayliffe-Jessup's thieving cost four people their jobs and almost sent PR company Ward Lovett to the wall when she stole £180,000 from them.

Bosses did not know that Ayliffe-Jessup, aged 40, of Lambert Drive, Burntwood, had lost her previous job for stealing £215,000 from Fibratrim in Burntwood when they took her on.

In June, Ayliffe-Jessup was jailed for five years after admitting three charges of theft from Ward Lovett between August 2006 and March 2010, £6,629 on the firm's credit card and sums of £29,494 and £145,910 from the firm's bank account.

Assets

She admitted a further charge of theft involving a total of £215,720 from Fibratrim between February 2000 and June 1, 2006.

But in a hearing under the Proceeds of Crime Act, Stafford Crown Court heard her total realisable assets amounted to just £5,216.

During the short hearing Judge John Maxwell ruled that Ayliffe-Jessup had benefited to the tune of £397,755 and made a confiscation order of £5,216 against her, to be paid within 28 days and a further four months in jail if she fails to comply.

Two new ministers

TWO new ministers are being welcomed into the Cannock Chase Methodist Circuit this month.

The Reverend Kate Cook will begin her ministry in the Rugeley section where she will have the care of St Paul's Methodist and United Reformed Church and the three Methodist churches at Brereton, Cannock Wood and Handsacre.

The churches will be holding a Getting to Know You evening at the Handsacre church tonight (Thursday).

Rider fell off bike and died

A PENSIONER died after falling off his bike while cycling down a poorly-lit street to buy his paper, an inquest heard.

Roynon Edwards, aged 82, came off when a driver pulled off a drive in Hagley Road, Rugeley.

Mr Edwards was not wearing any high visibility clothes or a helmet. He was wearing dark clothes on a bike with no lights as he did his daily ride.

The pensioner died at the University Hospital of North Staffordshire on December 29, 16 days after the fall from his bike.

A Hagley Road resident was reversing their silver Volkswagen Jetta out of their driveway when Mr Edwards was riding past.

Robert Lee, who lives in Hagley Road, said he rushed to the scene.

Mr Lee told Cannock Coroner's Court he saw the car seconds before the collision and it was reversing "very slowly".

Pc Simon Deall told the inquest that Mr Edwards was wearing dark clothes, had no lights on the bike, had no high visibility items on his person, and only one light reflector on each pedal.

He added Mr Edwards' bike did not hit the car and it appeared that he had either fallen off his bike before the impact, or he had deliberately come off.

Coroner Andrew Haigh record an accidental death verdict. He said the event had been a "tragic accident".

Presentation of Queen's Award

A SPECIAL presentation of the Queen's Award will be made a Cannock-based embroideries group tomorrow night (Friday).

The Chadsmoor Tapestry Group in Cannock was one of three groups in Staffordshire and Wolverhampton that were named in June as recipients of the honour.

The award is the highest that can be given to volunteers and is equivalent to an MBE for those who work in the community for the benefit of others.

The Chadsmoor tapestry group team was selected for helping with the development of artistic skills and providing embroideries for the local community.

The award is the result of 19 years work in the town.

The presentation of an engraved crystal and a certificate signed by the Queen will be made by Staffordshire Lord Lieutenant, Sir James Hawley at the Civic Suite in Beecroft Road from 7.30pm.

Chase is venue for tree hug record bid

A POPULAR tourist spot will be the venue for a world record attempt as part of a day of celebration.

Cannock Chase is taking a central part in the national Forest Discovery Day on Sunday, September 11 with a range of activities taking place.

The world record attempt – a mass tree hug – will be taking place at forests across the country at 2pm, as part of the 2011 International Year of Forest celebrations. It is also being held as part of campaign to protect the Chase.

This year was declared the year of the forest by the United Nations to raise awareness and strengthen the sustainable forest management, conservation and sustainable development of all types of forests

The Forest Discovery Day, which has been organised by the Forestry Commission, will include forest machinery demonstrations, cycling events, and a self-led quiz walk.

There will be demonstrations by forest artists and craftsmen, and question and answer sessions with the forest rangers.

Go Ape! Tree Top Adventure is also offering 50 per cent off its high wire courses for the day. People wanting to take part in the tree hug record attempt at Cannock Chase should go the Birches Valley Forestry Centre.

The tree hugging area is 656ft from the registration marquee. The record bid will see participants hug a tree continuously for one minute from 2pm.

Pictures can be taken of the tree hug attempt and uploaded onto the Forestry Commission's Facebook page, the winner receiving a Forest Discovery pack enabling them to a year's free parking.

In August it was announced that the government advisory panel on forests, The Independent Panel of Forestry, will not be visiting the Chase.

The decision came despite protests from campaign group Save Cannock Chase and local MP Aidan Burley. The panel is visiting wooded sites to report on their value to Environment Secretary Caroline Spellman.

In a letter to Mark Davies, who heads Save Cannock Chase, the panel ruled out a visit.

For more information about the events on offer at Cannock Chase and the record attempt visit www.forestry.gov.uk/moreinfo

Defunct town trade group set to reform

A TRADERS' group which folded earlier this summer is set to make a return towards the end of this month. A meeting to rebuild the defunct Hednesford Traders' Association has been set up.

Linda Whitehouse, vice-chairman of the former traders' group, said the organisation ran into difficulties when she planned an annual general meeting which stirred controversy. The row caused a breakaway group to form called the Hednesford Town Community Association.

Mrs Whitehouse, aged 50, said that the traders' group disbanded after it was discovered that the organisation did not have an official legal constitution.

Adding to the traders' woes, Mrs Whitehouse organised an AGM without giving 21 days' notice – a legal requirement – which angered some of Hednesford's businessmen and women.

In the interim, David Wisehall, working with another trader called Simon Orme, set up the Hednesford Town Community Association.

However, Mrs Whitehouse had planned a comeback and has now organised a meeting for Tuesday, September 27 when, she has announced, the Hednesford Traders Association will be rebuilt from scratch at Hawkins Cafe, in Market Street.

Passionate

Mrs Whitehouse says she has 12 traders already on board.

She said: "Several traders who have been actively involved for over 18 months are more passionate and positive than ever.

"New members have already joined the association, and the group will became stronger and wiser," she added.

"We have all gained more knowledge and skills, and the members are all willing to take ownership and responsibilities to put Hednesford on the map as the place to be."

David Wisehall said the meeting would not affect the ongoing activities of the Hednesford Town Community Association.

He said: "As far as I am concerned the Hednesford Town Community Association still represents the organisations and residents of Hednesford as was agreed at the meeting we held on June 14."

Bus travel offer for city students

STUDENTS from Cannock, Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay going to university or college in Birmingham are being offered a saver ticket they can use on a new bus service.

The X31 runs up to every 60 minutes daytime Monday to Saturday. Arriva Midlands spokesman Keith Myatt said the Student Saver tickets offered unlimited bus travel across the company's network.

It costs £170 for the autumn term and £140 each for spring and summer or £400 for the full academic year. Autumn tickets bought by September 17 will also be £140

"X31 is proving very popular with local bus users since introduction with passenger numbers growing daily," Mr Myatt said.

"We're sure students will find X31 ideal for getting to and from college or university."

Putting fun in fundraising

Fundraisers with, front, carer Karen Hughes, Rob Bate and Steve Bate

FUN and frolics were on the cards for regulars of a Cannock pub when they staged their latest fundraising venture.

Bungee jumping, bouncy castles and a barbecue were laid on for visitors to The Jubilee pub in Pye Green.

A martial arts demonstration had to be cancelled because of rain, but otherwise an action-packed programme went ahead according to plan.

The money raised will go towards a special fund to buy an electronic standing frame for wheelchair-bound Rob Bate, of Chasetown. The 16-year-old suffered brain damage as a baby, a trauma which also affected his physical development.

The teenager also suffers from multiple sclerosis and receives round-the-clock help from two carers. One, Karen Hughes, is a regular at the pub, where landlord Steve Bate, no relation, started a fund to help buy the £6,200 frame to help Rob's mobility.

The pub has raised £2,000 so far and Steve, aged 30, said: "It's nice to raise money for someone local".

'Respected' nurse retires

Retiring nurse Phillip Harper

NURSE Phillip Harper has retired after 40 years with the NHS. He has worked in nursing homes in South Staffordshire as part of South Staffordshire Primary Care Trust's continuing care team.

The registered mental health nurse trained as a psychiatric nurse at the old St Matthew's Hospital in Burntwood during the 1970s.

He worked for many years at Walsall PCT both as a community psychiatric nurse and with in-patient services. He has worked for South Staffordshire PCT since October 2008.

Bridget Tait, who leads the team from Springfield's Health and Wellbeing Centre in Rugeley, said: "Phillip has been a loyal servant to the NHS and has an exemplary record.

"He is well known for always going the extra mile. He is a true professional, and is highly respected."

Cash is taken in raid on pub

THIEVES made off with a large amount of cash from a Norton Canes pub while a member of staff was cashing up.

Two men entered The Yew Tree, in Jerome Road, Norton Canes, through a side door on August 21.

A female member of staff had been cashing up when the men walked in.

The woman went into the office to raise the alarm, and the men then left the pub with a large, undisclosed amount of cash taken from two tills.

The men did not speak to the member of staff or make any threats.

The offenders were both white, 5ft 5in to 5ft 6in tall and of average build.

One wore a dark-coloured top with a cowl neck and the other a dark-coloured hooded top.

Anyone with information on the incident, which happened just after 1am is asked to contact Pc Malcolm Beeston on 0300 123 44 55 quoting incident number 75 of August 21, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Alert issued after spate of break-ins

CAR owners Hednesford and Rugeley are being asked to safeguard their property following a series of thefts from vehicles.

Several motors were targeted in the Lower Birches Way and Burnthill Lane areas of Rugeley. Thieves also struck in the Sharon Way and Copperkins Road areas of Hednesford.

The thefts followed house burglaries in recent weeks in the same areas.

Items taken from cars and homes have included sat-navs, golf clubs, bikes, sunglasses, laptops and cash.

The Rugeley thefts happened overnight between Friday and Saturday, August 26/27 while the Hednesford crimes took place the following night.

Inspector Chris Ellerton, from the Cannock Chase Local Policing Team, said: "We're asking residents to be vigilant and safeguard their property as most of these crimes took place when vehicles or premises were left insecure.

"Extra high-visibility police patrols have been deployed and we're actively investigating the crimes – two men have already been arrested.

"As well as taking simple steps to safeguard property, people are being asked to ring us if they see anyone, on foot or on bicycles, acting suspiciously, particularly in the early hours of the morning."

Money is raised for cats' charity

A GENEROUS Cannock couple raised more than £1,000 for charity by hosting a party in their home.

The couple raised £1,230 for Cannock and Burntwood Cats Protection, by asking guests to donate, while they provided food, drink and entertainment.

A Cats Protection spokesman said it was the largest amount received from one event.

Manager on award shortlist

A DEDICATED school library manager from Burntwood has been shortlisted for a top national award.

Helen Emery, of Chase Terrace, is one of only three people across the country to reach the final of the School Librarian of the Year Award 2011.

She has worked at King Edward VI School in Lichfield for eight years and has already been hailed "exceptional" by the School Librarian Association selection committee.

Helen is now preparing to join the other finalists at a prestigious ceremony on October 3 in London.

She said: "I am absolutely thrilled to have got this far. "It is a real honour to be nominated and to have reached the finals is amazing.

"I feel so proud and I am pleased that our work at King Edward VI School has been recognised and that Staffordshire's library service as a whole is being put on the map."

Shadowed

The School Library Association (SLA) has been running the coveted awards since 2004.

Prior to reaching the finals Helen submitted lesson plans and a self-evaluation and was shadowed by two SLA representatives for a day.

County Councillor Pat Corfield, cabinet member for culture, communities and customers, said: "This is an excellent achievement for Helen.

"She has competed against some outstanding colleagues from up and down the country and to get this far shows how well respected she is.

"In Staffordshire we are 100 per cent committed to our school and community libraries and see them as a vital resource – while other councils have been cutting services we have been extending their remit."

Pirate themed fun day takes place at library

CANNOCK library is hosting a pirate themed family fun day next weekend.

Families are invited to take part in crafts activities, hear pirate-themed stories and help create library displays. The Manor Avenue venue will be hosting the event on Saturday, September 17.

Author of a pirate-based book, Richard Platt, will be talking about his work, titled Pirate Diary. His book tells the story of Jake Carpenter, who is taken by pirates while an apprentice sailor.

Library staff say the interactive, talk based on the book, will challenge the common stereotype of the harmless and swashbuckling pirate.

This event is free and forms part of a countywide programme of events for Local Community and History Month.

For more information contact Cannock Library on 01543 510365.

New course starts

A WEEKLY course on the universe is being held at Cardinal Griffin Catholic High School, off Stafford road, Cannock, from Monday, September 19 at 7.30pm.

Melon carver has Olympic dream

A CHEF at a Hednesford takeaway hopes an invitation to carve art in melons for a top politician will be his gateway to performing at the 2012 Olympics opening ceremony.

David Loh, who works at The Indian Dragon in Hednesford, spends his spare time creating art out of watermelons.

The 52-year-old from Birmingham, who goes by the alias of The Melonman, wants to make a name for himself across the globe. On Saturday (September 10) David is heading to a Malaysian festival, called the Merdeka Carnival, in Hertford where he will put on a special show for Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin, the Deputy Prime Minister of Malaysia.

David, who was born in Malaysia, but moved to England in 1990, was invited by the High Commission of Malaysia to show off his skills after impressing King Tuanku Mizan Zainal Abidin during a similar event when the Monarch visited the UK.

On September 24, David is heading to Malaysia Night in Trafalgar Square, where he hopes to show the Mayor of London, Boris Johnson, what he can do.

David's ultimate dream is to get a spot during the opening ceremony of the London Olympics putting on a light and melon-carving show.

The chef is getting ready to make a name for himself on Britain's Got Talent with his Licence to Thrill show, which will involve him walking on stage playing the James Bond theme on an electric guitar before moving on to carve melons of the show's presenters blindfolded.

Public urged to vote as project makes final category

Cycle trail in frame for big lottery prize

The Chase Trails team is appealing for votes for the National Lottery award

A PROJECT to create mountain bike trails on Cannock Chase is in the finals of the National Lottery Awards. Local people are involved in the scheme's design, build and maintenance.

The Chase Trails cyclepaths project is Staffordshire's only finalist in the best sport category competing in the annual search to find the UK's favourite lottery-funded schemes.

Voting is under way and if the cyclepaths project gets enough votes in the final round it will feature in a televised awards ceremony on BBC1 in November.

The other finalists are Active Newcastle, a community sports initiative, and The Bluebird Care Hampshire Disability Cricket programme.

Lottery funding helped to provide equipment, training and machine hire to get the Chase Trails started.

Jason Maclean, project manager for Chase Trails Cycle Project, said: "The team at the Forestry Commission and all of the Chase Trails volunteers are absolutely delighted to have made it to the final of The National Lottery Awards.

"It's great to have the opportunity to show everyone who has ever played the Lottery the real difference their money has made to our project.

"We hope the local community, especially those who have enjoyed riding the mountain bike trails on Cannock Chase, will now vote for us to win so our staff, volunteers and everyone involved in the project receive the recognition they deserve."

There are seven categories with one winner from each, receiving a £2,000 cash prize to spend on their project. Public voting for the final ends at noon on September 26.

History of mining in spotlight

A POPULAR museum will be digging up mining heritage this weekend.

Two days of events at the Museum of Cannock Chase will unearth the area's mining and industrial heritage, exploring links to the past and sharing stories on local history. Members of the Cannock Chase Mining Historical Society have organised the event at the venue in Valley Road, Hednesford.

Events take place from 11am to 4pm on both Saturday and Sunday and will include film screenings and informal presentations.

A special temporary display will be unveiled commemorating the life of founder member of the Mining Historical Society Jack Sunley, who died earlier this year.

Gas boiler fitter must pay £5,900

A GAS engineer from Willenhall who installed a gas boiler at a house despite not being registered to do so has been ordered to pay almost £6,000 at court.

Leslie Morgan, aged 64, of Cedar Road, installed the boiler at a Cannock house and issued a gas safety certificate despite not being on the compulsory Gas Safe Register.

He admitted a breach of health and safety relating to gas installation

Stafford magistrates were told that Morgan's original gas safety training and registration permitted him only to work for a previous company, and had expired in 2006.

Inspector

The Health and Safety Executive wrote to him in 2008 informing to stop work or become properly trained and registered, after he was found to have carried out unregistered work in 2007.

Cannock Chase District Council raised concerns about a gas safety certificate issued by Morgan to the landlord. A further investigation found the certificate was issued illegally.

Morgan was fined £4,000 and ordered to pay £1,900 costs last Wednesday.

HSE inspector Wayne Owen said afterwards: "Any business or sole trader who carries out any work on any gas appliances without being on the Gas Safe Register is breaking the law."

Artist's work is on display

AN artist with a love of landscapes has included some of her favourite views in a new exhibition which has gone on display.

The paintings, by Burntwood artist Jean Walker, show a host of attractive scenes from Cannock Chase, and have gone on show in Lichfield.

Mrs Walker took up her lifelong hobby in earnest after her two children left home 15 years ago.

The 63-year-old studied for an A-Level in art in 2002 before completing a degree in fine art at Wolverhampton University in 2007.

The show runs until September 30 at Lichfield Library, The Friary.

Cash share on offer in grant aid scheme

COMMUNITY-minded organisations in Burntwood are urged to apply for a share of a £8,000 cash pot.

The grant aid scheme provides funding for new organisations and makes donations to existing groups. The town council wants to hear from local groups .

Town clerk Mary Danby said previous appeals had attracted more than 30 responses. She said: "Burntwood Town Council operates a limited annual grant aid budget.

"The 2011 scheme will close on September 22. Decisions will be announced in early December."

Last year's biggest handout was made to Age Concern South Staffordshire, which received £600.

Application forms can be picked up from the town council in Bridge Cross Road. For more details, contact Ms Danby on 01543 677166.

Talented singer in train death horror

Samantha Maritza

A TALENTED young musician from Rugeley killed herself while on "leave" from a hospital where she was being treated after showing signs of suicidal tendencies, an inquest has heard.

Samantha Maritza, aged 21 was the lead singer of up-and-coming electro indie band China Red. She was killed when she stepped off the platform into the path of a train travelling at 125mph at Lichfield Trent Valley on June 9 last year.

Samantha, who was studying hairdressing at Tamworth College, was released the same day on "unescorted leave" from St George's Hospital, in Stafford, at 12.30pm and was due to return at 2.30pm.

Dr Gurpreet Singh, a consultant psychiatrist for the South Staffordshire & Shropshire Healthcare Trust, told Cannock Coroner's Court he became aware of Samantha when she was admitted to the hospital in May after she tried to hang herself the month before.

Samantha had a hospital meeting with Dr Singh on the day of her death, and the psychiatrist said he saw a "big improvement".

Dr Singh said Samantha, of Batesway, Brereton, seemed more "cheerful" and "confident".

She was allowed a few hours of unescorted leave."

Samantha went to Lichfield station and stepped on the track, just before 4pm.

Screwdriver

Solicitor Sharon Allison said Samantha was found with a T-shirt around her neck at the hospital on May 22 and on May 25 she was found in possession of a screwdriver.

Dr Singh said he was not aware of these incidents and said, with hindsight, that had he been, it might have changed the decision to let her go.

Mr Haigh said Samantha killed herself while mentally unwell, but he was satisfied there had been no "gross failures."

Rose blooms as art on display

AN artist's work, inspired by places she has recently visited, has gone on show in Hednesford.

Eccleshall artist Rose Jones works in a variety of styles using acrylics and "mixed media" to create atmospheric artworks.

The collection of work is on display at the Museum of Cannock Chase in Valley Road, until October 14.

Works are based on her travels to four countries, linked by common themes of water, skies and trees.

Her most recent work is similar in style to an old childhood story book. Rose said: "This collection of artwork reflects the diverse nature of what interests, intrigues and moves me."

This is Rose's first solo gallery exhibition at the museum. Her work was featured earlier this year as part of a museum coffee shop exhibition by the WEA Art Group, at Lea Hall, Rugeley.

The museum is open seven days a week from 11am with the last admission at 4.30pm. Call 01543 877666.

Anne and Maurice Cann mark their golden anniversary

Couple rack up 50 years, with daily tiff

A DEVOTED Cannock couple celebrated their Golden anniversary – and said a daily tiff was the secret to a happy marriage. Anne and Maurice Cann, of St Aidan's Road, marked 50 years of wedded bliss.

The pair married in their native North East in 1961 before heading south three years later so that Maurice could work in the mines.

They celebrated their milestone anniversary on August 26 over a curry with their family, sons John, 48, and 41-year-old Glyn, daughter Jacqui, 44, six grandchildren and two great-grandsons. The couple, originally from Blaydon-on-Tyne, are also planning a cruise in the Mediterranean.

On their wedding day

"We're not 'yes darling' people," said Anne. "We're independent and speak our minds. The kids say we're always rowing but we love each other, he's my rock."

Maurice, now 75, left the mines after 18 months and spent most of his working life driving long-distance lorries. Former civil servant Anne, 70, has worked as a Slimming World consultant for the past 17 years.

£8,000 fine for firm after river polluted

A RUGELEY company that admitted polluting the River Trent has been fined £8,000.

Bathroom suite and shower company Ideal Standard Manufacturing UK after pleading guilty to the charge of permitting poisonous or noxious waste to enter controlled waters at its site in Armitage.

The company was also ordered to pay costs of £2,341

The incident followed heavy rain which led to clay and glaze slurry entering Bardy Lane Brook and the River Trent in January 2010.

Jason Cox, representing Ideal Standard Manufacturing, told Stafford Magistrates Court last week that the company's Rugeley treatment plant had operated for 20 years without any problems but on this occasion, the company's systems had "broken down in extreme weather conditions."

"This is not a company with any previous convictions relating to business at the site," he said.

Lessons

"They co-operated with the Environment Agency following this incident.

"Steps have been taken to ensure it does not happen again in extreme weather and a number of pumps have been upgraded.

"The pipes were freezing at the time," he added. "I accept it should not take an incident like this for the company to learn its lessons."

Mr Cox added the company had already paid £25,000 in clean-up costs and that an investigation had cost £2,500.

John Hill, chairman of the magistrates' bench, said: "This was a serious event and the company has fallen short of the standards expected.

"But there has been no serious harm to fauna and flora and the company has undergone prompt work to upgrade its systems.

"This was caused by the company taking their eye off the ball."

The fine was reduced to £8,000 because of a early guilty plea.

Cancer Research thanks support at fundraising stall

I WOULD like to thank people for supporting the Norton Canes & Walsall Local Committee with their fundraising stall at the Walsall Festival on Saturday August 13. The stall raised nearly £200 thanks to local support and donated raffle prizes.

The committee would like to thank: Aldridge Community Centre, The Co-Operative (Aldridge), The Co-Operative Pharmacy (Walsall Wood), Costcutter (Walsall Wood), Entwined Flowers (Walsall Wood), Fresh Beauty(Aldridge), Paul's Sweets (Brownhills), Savers (Brownhills), The School Farm Shop (Shelfield) and Spar at Walsall Wood for their kind donations to the cause.

The committee would also like to say thank you to Mayor of Walsall Councillor Gary Perry and to Mr Anthony Harrison for organising the event.

Cancer Research UK is funded almost entirely by donations from the public which is why support from local people in the area is so vitally important.

The committee is always looking for new fundraising activities and members. Contact Graham or Sue on 01543 370700 or e-mail graham.payne1@yahoo.com

Thank you for your support. Together we will beat cancer

MIRANDA WILLIAMS, AREA VOLUNTEER MANAGER
LOCAL SUPPORTER FUNDRAISING, CANCER RESEARCH UK

We're a forgotten society

AS our MP Aidan Burley supports forums to engage with the unemployed and help them find work, then why not get his Government to freeze the increases in gas and electricty as the French and German Governments did two years ago?

Yet again we become a forgotten society. Better to rule the world than to do its best for it own people.

HELEN OF HEDNESFORD

Group will be doomed from the start if councillors jump on board

RE: the article headed: 'Friends Group Plan Debated at Meeting' (Page 9, August 25).

I was one of the many interested Hednesford residents who attended the recent inaugural meeting of the 'Friends of Hednesford Park at the CVS offices in Hednesford' and already I see that councillors are getting on the bandwagon, no doubt trying to drum up some publicity and credibility for themselves!

Fact: Cannock Chase Council leader Councillor George Adamson did not meet up with Councillor Linda Whitehouse to discuss the setting up of the group they had no involvement in the group's formation whatever. They were both invited to the inaugural meeting by Lynn Evans, who is now the interim chairman of the group until the forthcoming AGM.

At that meeting it was agreed that any councillors there would be in the role of residents, not in role of councillors. Sadly this now doesn't seem to have happened.

As a local resident I was hoping that councillors would not be involved in the newly-formed friends group, they should leave well alone and let the interested and committed local residents get on with the forming and running the group.

There are around 35 local residents already interested in joining so it bodes well for the future, but if the group let controlling councillors get involved then it will be doomed from the start, and I will withdraw my support.

LOCAL RESIDENT AND HEDNESFORD PARK USER

Another chance to give district a sporting legacy

RE: Olympic legacy (Chronicle, August 25).

If it is an Olympic legacy the leader of the council calls for in his recent letter, well tell the whole truth first and maybe the people Cannock Chase will see just what your Party did to burst that dream.

It is very true that all parties would not have wanted to see Cannock Stadium close if there had been any chance for it to become a modern, viable sporting facility we could have been proud of. Councillor Adamson chooses to ignore the harsh facts that sadly, the people of Cannock Chase were not getting value from it, as it was under-used, ailing and in sorry condition that was leaching Council Tax payers' money. It needed real fresh thinking on how to provide and fund modern sporting facilities across Cannock Chase and not just focussed on one venue.

Nationally the Labour Government took Britain to the brink of bankruptcy and its Plan B is bankruptcy.

We cannot afford our Labour-led Council do the same here by not recognising the financial danger in such issues

The truth is that his own Party blocked a planning application by exerting national Government pressure on an enquiry that could have passed it. This was for purely for perceived political gain that he continues to peddle here rather than doing something about it.

The release of several million pounds would have resulted from the successful application bringing sporting facilities to the heart of schools and towns around the Chase where we could have by now have truly developed our young sportsmen and women into Olympics hopefuls.

To Councillor Adamson I would say 'stick your head in the sand of the long jump pit if you wish and pretend it was all someone else's fault. Or indeed now blame Asda's intransigence on an agreement that could again free the monies to invest in Chase sport if you were to manage the negotiations properly'.

Tell the truth and guide the council you now lead. You know you will have another chance shortly to give this district a sporting legacy generated from the stadium site, so take it. And the sooner you do so then the sooner the school buses can stop rolling out of the district to other venues too.

Thoughts on housing crisis

I WOULD like to make a comment on the housing crisis that we find ourselves in.

In the 80s, because of the state of disrepair of properties were in – due to lack of investment – the Government at the time wanted these houses off their hands.

They sold the properties to private landlords and at that time these landlords evicted all the council tenants and rented them with a greater rent to those who could afford it.

Then the Government put in tenancy contracts which gave the tenants the legal support to prevent eviction. It also introduced the fair rent department to prevent private landlords charging extortionate rents.

Now this department has been finished, as far as I know there are no regulation bodies to prevent the private landlords putting up their prices and because the Local Housing Allowance (LHA) is due to be reduced, then those who are in need of housing will have to find the shortfall or be evicted.

To me, there are three options open to the government. One, to bring in law not allowing private landlords to charge more than the LHA. Two, to build more houses which they MUST keep in their control and not sell them to private landlords, because we will still be in the same situation. Three, that the Government raises the LHA which I cannot see happening.

The Government has made many mistakes over housing and now we see that you can not allow small groups of people renting out large majorities of property without understanding that they are in this profession to make money and if not regulated they will take advantage of the markets and get what they can out of people and leave the vulnerable to fend for themselves.

Charity is counting the cost of burglary

Hefty repair bill as nature base floods

Roofer Danny McLaughlin and chairman Derek Silverwood survey the damage to the roof

A CHARITY has been left with a bill of thousands of pounds for repairs after metal thieves ransacked its base near Rugeley and left it flooded.

The raiders struck at the Four Seasons Nature Centre in Kings Bromley Lane, Handsacre, ripping out copper piping from its central heating system. By the time the raid was discovered the following morning the building was awash with water. The centre is run by Combined Handicapped and Disabled Society, also known as Chads.

The burglars stole a copper water tank and pipes. They also damaged the roof by taking lead flashing.

The raid was discovered on the morning of Saturday, August 27. All the copper piping from its central heating system and feeder tanks had been stripped out.

Staff member Angela Silverwood, whose husband Derek founded Chads and is its chairman, said the cost of repairing the damage was estimated at between £5,000 and £10,000.

"It left everything a real mess," she said. "The carpets were also ruined and will need replacing as well. If anyone can help us they should call 01543 491077."

Setback

The raid and the cost of cleaning up and making repairs will be a major setback for the charity which has to raise its own funds. The centre will be shut for around two weeks as a result of the attack.

Police are appealing for anyone who saw people or vehicles acting suspiciously near the centre, off the A513, from 8.30pm on Friday, August 26 to 9.50am the following day to come forward. Witnesses should ring Staffordshire Police on 0300 123 4455, quoting incident number 299 of 27 August, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Chads opened the centre, at the former Armitage football ground, in 1998.

The centre, which has 60 acres of ground, is home to Gloucester cattle and is used for studying wild flowers and birds.

It is used by both disabled and able-bodied people. It was set up to bring people closer to nature.

Twin brothers Brian. left, and Norris meet up at the Scholars Ground for their 80th birthdays

Magic our Norris, the birthday boy is greeted by Chasetown boss Charlie Blakemore

Twin celebration for Norris and brother Brian

On the ball as 'Mr Chasetown' marks his 80th birthday

The Chasetown cake given to Norris Russell

Brother Brian's Aston Villa birthday cake

HE ISN'T known as Mr Chasetown without good reason and true to form, despite a defeat for his beloved club a day earlier, Norris Russell was back at The Scholars Ground on Sunday (September 4) for a very special celebration.

Lifelong Chasetown support Norris turned 80 years old and to mark the occasion was thrown a party by the club. Family members from all over the UK attended including one from very close to home – Norris' twin Brian.

For a fervent Scholars supporter there could only be one cake appropriate for the occasion and a Chasetown FC cake was duly presented to the octogenarian.

Pictures by Dave Birt

But for Brian – an Aston Villa fan and season ticket holder – Chasetown wouldn't do, so he was given a Villa cake.

Reluctant Norris, who was an awarded a Chasetown team shirt with number 80 on the back during a trip on the team coach to face Bradford Park Avenue on Saturday, travels home and away to support the Scholars.

Chasetown president Brian Baker said: "He's our number one supporter and a life member of the club.

"Everyone wished him a very happy birthday and he said he didn't feel any older, which was great.

"Norris is full of life; win lose or draw he's always there."

A club spokesman added: "Everyone at Chasetown FC would like to wish Norris (and Brian) a very happy birthday and thank him for his continued loyal support of the Scholars."

Norris himself said he had already had far too much fuss, but that the club had been very good to him and the celebrations were very thoughtful.

Signing the disclaimer before tackling the curry

Feeling the heat as Islam Uddin stands by

Burn, baby burn Dilshad inferno

SOME like it hot, they say, while others – like myself – like to keep it cool. So how would I get on with the UK's hottest curry? Could I h-h-h-handle it?

Created by award-winning chef Babul Miah at the Dilshad in Chadsmoor, the inferno, as the dish is known, has already sparked great interest among diners and the Press, with customers coming from Northampton, Nottingham and Derbyshire to try their luck.

Owner Tony Uddin has challenged anyone to finish the dish and get it for free if they do, though it has to be said that even if it was on the house, you'd still end up paying later . . . as I found out to my cost. One woman, a reporter from a national paper, has come close to polishing it off, but so far, the challenge has eluded all-comers.

"It's the first time I've seen a women get that close," said Tony. "Some other people have come close, but no one has actually done it."

The eye-watering dish is made from fresh naga chillies and is hotter than the phall, traditionally seen as the hottest of all curries. Customers even have to sign a disclaimer before taking on the challenge.

I was always told I needed some fire in my belly, so I signed my life away and tucked in, ordering a lemon chilli rice and a plain naan to accompany the meal. The spiciness of a curry usually takes away the taste, but I have to say that on this occasion it didn't. The chicken was delicious, but the effect was immediate.

I gave it a good go but, alas, it defeated me. I may have had a burning desire to try it, but I had a burning sensation inside me afterwards.

There is a trick, I'm told, but far be it from me to reveal it. Needless to say, the gallons of water I downed to douse the heat had no effect. The ice cream for dessert did though!

The inferno is available for £8.95 but is on the house if you finish it off. Anyone that does gets a certificate too.

To take on the challenge, call the Dilshad, at Ashworth House, Cannock Road, on 01543 570624 or 466587.

Praise for food given to patients

FOOD for patients at Cannock Chase Hospital was awarded top marks in a recent healthcare assessment by the Patient Environmental Action Team.

The PEAT assessment results were produced after a survey of facilities carried out by the trust's nurses, matrons, doctors, patient representatives, catering managers and executive and non-executive directors.

Hospital's fare rated 'excellent'

Both Stafford and Cannock Chase hospitals were rated good or better in all three categories – food, privacy and dignity and environment.

The quality of food at Cannock was rated excellent.

Health bosses say the assessment results help to highlight areas for improvement as well as enabling them to share best practice across healthcare organisations in England.

Figures show that only 22 per cent of hospitals who carried out PEAT programmes had their figures independently checked. Nationally a total of 93 per cent of NHS hospitals rated themselves as good or excellent – compared to 87 per cent in 2010.

PEAT is an annual assessment of inpatient healthcare sites in England which have more than 10 beds. Ratings range from 'unacceptable' to 'excellent.

Rob Willatt, catering manager at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, said: "We are really pleased with the results which show that the food at Cannock continues to be of a very high standard.

"We have also just been awarded five stars by the environmental health department for the second year running."

Show of the yee-hah

THE wild west came to Burntwood in a quirky fundraiser that drew revellers from as far afield as Manchester and Wales.

The three-day cowboy festival at The Drill Inn in Springle Styche Lane saw tomahawk throwing, horseshoe pitching and fast-draw competitions. Former Burntwood resident Becki Plumbe, a member of the Bar X country & western club, organised the event to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Research after losing a family friend to the disease.

Mother-of-two Judy Chapman, of Shard End, Birmingham, died of throat cancer aged 56 in May. Her husband Dennis, daughters Debbie and Julie, and her grandchildren turned out to support the event, which raised £1,010.

Crushed worker is 'stable'

A WORKER was crushed between a mini digger and a skip in Rugeley.

The accident happened in Power Station Road just after 10am on Monday (September 5).

The worker was cared for by colleagues after being pinned between the digger, which is used on site, and a skip. He had suffered suspected abdominal, pelvic and leg injuries.

Emergency services were called to the scene and the 23-year-old injured man was flown to hospital by the Midlands Air Ambulance. A fire engine was called out but was not required to free the man.

Paramedics and an emergency doctor on board the ambulance treated the worker on scene.

He was given pain relief before being fully immobilised and transferred to the awaiting air ambulance, which had landed on a piece of land opposite the premises.

He was flown to the University Hospital of North Staffordshire on Stoke-on-Trent where medics were alerted to the arrival.

On Tuesday, the man was said to be in a stable condition.

Prizes set to be awarded

THE winners of the annual Burntwood in Bloom competition will be presented with their prizes tonight (Thursday).

The presentation evening is being held in Burntwood Library in Sankeys Corner from 6pm with council chairman Councillor Eric Drinkwater making the presentations.

Kakehole and Popol are hoping to conquer people's fears of clowns by holding 'clowncelling' sessions

Afraid? Then send in the 'clowncelling'

by SARAH HAZELWOOD
s.hazelwood@expressandstar.co.uk

THE CIRCUS is rolling into town – complete with an award-winning double act to tackle the rising fear of clowns.

John Lawson's Circus presents its fun-packed family show at Star Land, on Hazel Lane, from Friday to Sunday, September 16 to 18.

As well as the usual acts such as high flying acrobats, knife throwers and trapeze artistes, the show also presents the madcap routines of clown duo Kakehole and Popol.

But ringmaster Attila Endresz said he wasn't sure everyone would be pleased to welcome the clowns after a recent poll revealed they are the nation's third biggest fear.

"It is surprising how many people seem to be frightened of them," he said. "Some people react with pure terror."

Coulrophobia, the fear of clowns, is believed to be caused by a subconscious dread of the unknown; with the heavy make-up seen as a mask hiding the character's true intentions.

Kakehole and Popol, whose zany performances have twice won them 'Best Comedy Act' in the UK National Circus Awards, are determined to conquer people's insecurities with a special therapy session, known as 'clowncelling' in the Big Top.

"It's upsetting when audience members are scared of us," said Popol, the country's only remaining white-face clown. "But people are not scared when they get to know us, sometimes it is just the initial sight that can be unnerving."

Kakehole said they hoped their "therapy sessions would even help people discover their inner clown.

Show times for Friday are 4.30pm and 7.30pm, Saturday at 2pm and 5pm and Sunday at 2pm.

Tickets are £8 or £6 for the first night. For more information or to book call the box office on 07860 498833.

E&S engineer dies, aged 58

Melvyn Pearce

A RESPECTED chief engineer who kept the Express & Star running and printing for almost 35 years has died.

Melvyn Pearce, who was 58 and lived at Wedges Mills, near Cannock, was diagnosed with cancer five months ago. he died last Wednesday, August 31.

He worked as chief electrical engineer at the newspaper's head office in Queen Street, Wolverhampton.

Mr Pearce, who did not marry, obtained his qualifications from Wulfrun College and Wolverhampton Polytechnic, where he graduated with honours with an HNC in electrical engineering in 1975.

He joined the company aged 27 in October 1980 as an electrical and electronic engineer.

In 1990 he was promoted to deputy chief electrical technician and later in 1998 to chief electrical engineer.

Colleague and former chief electrician Mike Sample said: "Melvyn was unbelievable.

"He was an exceptional engineer and had a perspective on everything.

"He had a real gift for solving problems and he was also a very compassionate man who had time for everyone.

"Melvyn knew all about technology and I think one of his biggest achievements was in helping to create the picture desk used in the editorial department of the newspaper.

"The Express & Star has seen a huge amount of technological change over the years and Melvyn was a big part in making sure it stayed at the forefront of technology."

Mr Sample, of Bradmore, visited Mr Pearce regularly during the final months of his life. The funeral will be held at noon on September 12 at the West Chapel of Bushbury Crematorium.

Donations can be made to the Prostate Cancer Research Centre c/o AJ Sellman Funeral Directors, 70 Church Street, Cannock, WS11 1DH.

Open air gym session will be 24 hours lung

FITNESS fanatics are invited to a one-off 24-hour gym session which aims to raise money for the British Lung Foundation.

Cannock-based Fresh Air Gym will host the mammoth charity challenge next friday (September 16) at St Luke's Primary School, New Penkridge Road, from 5pm.

Fresh Air Gym hosts boot camp sessions three times a week at the school and staff are asking volunteers to join in alongside members by contributing a 15-minute stint.

Breathe Easy Cannock is the town's support group for the British Lung Foundation. Charity member Jasmine Smith said: "We're delighted that Fresh Air Gym is doing this amazing fundraiser."

Instructor Sally Hammond said she hoped Cannock people would support the boot camp team in the challenge. At the end of it all, at 5pm on Saturday, there will be a celebratory barbecue. To take part, visit www.freshairgym.co.uk or call Sally Hammond on 01543 579297.

Fresh Air Gym instructors Jamie Wood and Sally Hammond, and Breathe Easy charity member Jasmine Smith (centre) look forward to a 24-hour gym marathon

900 jobs on offer at Amazon's new unit

ONLINE retailer Amazon has advertised 900 vacancies at its new processing centre in Rugeley.

Positions available at the new unit include processing orders and providing customer service.

Amazon announced in July that it would be moving into a new 700,000sq ft building at Towers Business Park.

Cannock Chase Council's economic development leader, Councillor Gordon Alcott, is encouraging people living in the area to take up the employment opportunity while it is on offer.

He said: "This represents a fantastic opportunity for the people of Rugeley and Cannock. There are literally hundreds of jobs available right on their doorstep.

"Amazon is a truly global organisation and I am positive that we have the skill base here in our community to fill these roles.

"For the district this is obviously a big boost and we hope that as many people as possible will take up this opportunity with both hands and apply for these vacancies.

Partners

"The council will continue to work with Amazon, their recruitment agents Randstad, JobCentre Plus and training providers to ensure that local unemployed people are also considered for the new posts," he added.

Towers Business Park is the site of the former Lea Hall Colliery and Amazon's unit has lain empty since it was built three years ago.

The Towers Business Park site was set up in 1991 by Staffordshire County Council and various scheme partners, and completed in 2000.

The Amazon unit was built by developer Gazeley in 2008 but has remained empty as a result of the economic downturn. The Rugeley bypass was built in 2007 as part of the regeneration.

Arthur Valdez – vice-president of operations at Amazon.co.uk – said: "The centre at Rugeley will play an important role in fulfilling orders for customers in the UK, Europe and all over the world."

To apply for a job call 0844 257 8293.

Meeting arranged by MP over biking

With their teddies at Chasewater innovation Centre are Oliver Povey, aged eight, his sister Natasha, five and Connor Collins, three

Ready, teddy, go!

YOUNGSTERS and their cuddly friends descended on Chasewater Innovation Centre for a day of fun and games.

A total of 30 children went along to try to win awards at a teddy bear's picnic as well as play games and have fun with their families. Hunting for a hidden teddy bear and guessing the name of one furry friend were among the challenges for the youngsters.

Hilary Foxley said: "We had a great time with arts and crafts and even made hats for the teddies. It was such a positive event for the youngsters."

SOUTH Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has managed to arrange a meeting with the owners of a quarry site near Huntington that was used for an off-road biking event.

Mr Williamson says he was shocked at the state of Shoal Hill Quarry after surveying the site following the two-day meeting. Bikers from across the country attended the weekend event and left the area churned up. The biking event was put on by World of Riding Events.

The MP will meet tomorrow (Friday) with the land owners Inglewood Investments, based in Stafford.

He said: "It was shocking to see how much land had been churned up and having spoken to local residents it is clear that what they want to see is good dialogue with those responsible.

"Inglewood Investments have to work with local people and show some consideration, which frankly so far hasn't happened."

Consult

Mr Williamson said the meeting would only be with himself and Inglewood Investments director Tom Follows.

However, he wants to press for a wider meeting with parish, borough and county councillors.

He said: "I hope they will agree to a wider meeting and I want to get a clear and firm commitment that they are going to consult with the local community and involve people in the decision process.

The biking event took place on August 13/14, though there are currently no plans for a follow-up event.

Mr Follows said time would be taken reflect on the event before any decisions are made about further race meetings.

Village hall handed a cash boost

MEMBERS of a community hall in Rugeley are hoping a recent cash boost of more than £500 will help pave the way to a secure future for local groups.

The Victory Hall, in Slitting Mill, received £570 from the Staffordshire local community fund to help improve plumbing facilities.

The application to improve the pipes at the hall in time for the winter was supported by county councillor Geoff Martin.

The hall is used regularly by a variety of organisations including Cannock Chase U3A (University of the Third Age).

Every Monday morning the U3A host a Tia Chi class from 10.30am and next Tuesday (September 13) they will hold their monthly general meeting, from 2pm.

Guest speaker Tony Johnson, representing Mencap, will lead the session.

Other local groups who use the hall regularly include walking, history, crafts, kurling, gardening and lunch clubs.

If you have rheumatoid arthritis (RA) with symptoms not adequately controlled by your current medications, you may be interested in a clinical study taking place in the local area.

The study is examining the effectiveness and safety of an investigational product in reducing pain and maintaining movement in joints in patients with moderate to severe RA.

We want to hear from you if you:

- have active RA
- are at least 18 years old
- have received at least 3 months of treatment with a biologic treatment, in combination with methotrexate
- are not obtaining adequate RA symptom relief.

Our study team will explain in detail what would be involved at every stage of the study. Participation is completely voluntary. With your consent, we would assess whether you meet all the study requirements before confirming whether you can take part. Study medication and procedures will be provided at no cost to you and study-related travel will be reimbursed.

WWI features on Chase to be preserved

THE county council is planning to preserve First World War features on Cannock Chase after a survey revealed that some were deteriorating.

A survey was carried out by archaeology consultants earlier this year on areas of the beauty spot that were once used as training camps for troops preparing to fight in the trenches in the 1914-18 conflict. The consultants have carried out checks on the former practice trenches, camp remains and some parts of a military supply railway.

The council's biodiversity officer Sue Sheppard has written to Brereton and Ravenhill parish council detailing works planned at Cannock Chase country park over the autumn and winter.

Priority

Miss Sheppard said archaeologists has found that in some cases trees and brambles were breaking up the features and some plants may need to be removed to protect the Great War features.

"The survey has identified which of the features need work to protect them from further deterioration," she said.

"From this a priority list of tasks will be developed with work specifications prepared in agreement with archaeology specialists within the council." She added work would be carried out in such a way as to ensure that no other features or habitats are damaged in the process.

She added: "Working methods will be agreed with the archaeologists in order to ensure features are not damaged through the work."

Camps were constructed at Rugeley along Penkridge Bank and Brocton near Anson's Bank.

Among the soldiers who trained there was Lord of the Rings author JRR Tolkien.

Troops from New Zealand also trained on Cannock Chase.

One of the original wooden huts from the war is still preserved at the visitor centre in Marquis Drive, near Hednesford. It was used as a village hall for many years before being returned to the Chase.

A Great War trail has been created by the county council for people interested in visiting the military sites.

Owners put ladies first at fitness club

Grace Coggins, aged 18, from Cannock, tries out some exercise equipment in a new ladies fitness centre with club manager Steve Baker

A NEW gym for ladies wishing to lose weight and get fit will soon be open in Cannock.

The Energy Fitness Club will open its doors in Hollies Court on September 26. It is aimed at ladies of a slightly older age, who tend not to go to, or feel comfortable, in the gym.

Owner Wayne Goodwin and manager Steve Baker have more than 65 years of health and fitness experience between them.

They said they were excited at the prospect of the opening, and had many plans for members to improve their fitness but in a comfortable and non-intimidating environment, using specialised resistance equipment.

Mr Goodwin said members could take advantage of a special six-week programme which guaranteed results or your money back.

"Women will get the latest up-to-date advice and support, one-to-one support and get results in six weeks," he said. "We suggest coming three times a week for 30 minutes. It is a comfortable environment for ladies."

Mr Baker added: "We are going to organise outdoor running, netball, swimming and talks on cookery. There will also be yoga and pilates." For more details, visit www.effw.co.uk or call 01543 502861.

During 2001, Kelsall was in the Top 20 of the Classical album charts and in 1993 received the coveted Gold Badge Award of the British Academy of Songwriters, Composers and Authors for his service to the British music industry. Fellow recipients of this award have included Shirley Bassey and Jools Holland.

Sponsored trek is charity's flagship event of year

Stepping out for memory walk in aid of Alzheimer's

A NATIONAL charity event which raises money for the Alzheimer's Society is coming to Cannock for the first time.

Memory Walk is the Alzheimer's Society's annual flagship fundraising event in association with BUPA.

Sponsored walks take part across the country during September to raise awareness and vital funds for the charity, with this year marking the event's 10th year.

Cannock Chase Memory Walk will take place from Marquis Drive Visitor Centre and is a two-mile walk through an area of outstanding natural beauty. Fundraiser Rachel Nicholson said: "The route can be done with wheelchairs and pushchairs so anyone can come and join in.

"There will be plenty to do on the day - a quiz and nature trail to keep you busy on the route, tea and cakes for when the walk is finished, a memory tree and plenty of fun games for all the family."

Participants can register online until next Thursday (September 15) and will receive a sponsorship form, T-shirt and certificate. People can also register on the day from 10am. Visit www.memorywalk.org.uk for more details.

Residents listed security as being the most important factor to them in living at the scheme, with independence and companionship being a close second and third.

Centre offering free blood pressure tests

A HEALTH centre in Cannock is offering free blood pressure checks as part of a national awareness campaign.

Nuffield Health, in East Cannock Road, is taking part in this year's know your numbers event, next Thursday (September 15), from 10am until 7pm. Latest figures from the Blood Pressure Association have revealed around five million lives are at risk because people don't know their numbers, making high blood pressure the UK's biggest silent killer.

All those who attend the session will receive a free day pass allowing them access to the swimming pool, gym and studio classes. Richard Armitage, general manager at Nuffield, said: "A quick, painless test could help avoid the serious illness's high blood pressure can cause, because there are no symptoms."

No appointments are needed. For more information visit www.nuffieldhealth.com or contact Richard on 01543 426 531.

Park gates prove a welcome addition

COUNCILLORS in Burntwood have welcomed the addition of new security gates to help protect a park in the town.

The first of a series of proposed improvements in Redwood Park, in Redwood Drive, has seen fencing and gating installed after a campaign by residents. County councillor Steve Tranter and district councillor Heather Tranter helped move the campaign forward and at a public meeting in June residents voted for the work to go ahead.

Funds came from a Section 106 planning agreement and Lichfield District Council, as well as donations from Burntwood Rotary Club and county councillors Steve Tranter, Paul Atkins and Frank Lewis.

Councillor Heather Tranter said she was delighted with the first phase of the project.

"Now that the park will be secure we will now be working towards implementing phase two and concentrate on raising the necessary funding required," she said.

Efforts

Newly elected district councillor Richard Mosson added: "I am delighted for the local residents and have to congratulate both Heather and Steve on their efforts over the last two years.

"Having canvassed the area prior to the election, it was fully understood how important this work was to residents living on the perimeter."

Revamp at store unveiled

A CANNOCK supermarket's redevelopment was due to be officially unveiled to the public yesterday (Wednesday).

Sainsbury's, at Voyager Drive, has been extended to include a delicatessen counter, salad bar, pizza counter, rotisserie and fresh meat and fish counter.

A first-floor customer restaurant and a photo-processing department are also new additions to the store.

Eighty new staff have joined, most of whom live in and around Cannock.

Store manager Rob Hillman said: "We're delighted to welcome shoppers as well as new colleagues into our bigger and better store."

Ballroom demolition work is set to begin

WORK on demolishing Hednesford's Aquarius Ballroom will start within the next two weeks, developers have revealed.

Part of the old floor of the 60-year-old Victoria Street hall, which closed in May, will be saved and relocated at a new site.The plans form part of the £50m Hednesford Gateway development led by Midlands-based St Modwen.

Plans for the new 10,000 sq ft community centre above shops are part of the second phase of the development – Victoria Shopping Park. They include a new 80,000 sq ft Tesco store on stilts, seven new shops and 640 free parking spaces.

Phase one of the regeneration – Chase Gateway – is at the Rugeley Road end of the town. It includes a new budget food store and four two-storey units as well as a 170-space car park provided along with seven other retail units. It also includes new purpose-built premises for Hollywood Bingo Club and the Reserve Forces and Cadets Association.

Developers St Modwen aim to have the non-food units completed in time for Christmas 2012. It is estimated that the overall scheme will lead to 600 jobs.

St Modwen development surveyor Mark Watkins told Hednesford Community Forum on Monday: "The Aquarius is currently being cleared and prepared for demolition.Part of the floor will be retained to be used as a feature in the new facility."

Construction work began on the redevelopment in April.

Students give a welcome to newcomers

Oh, baby! Lemurs settle in at campus

STUDENTS at South Staffordshire College's Rodbaston campus have welcomed new two new visitors.

The campus near Penkridge has become home to a rare species following the birth of two Black Lemurs.

The animal zone at South Staffordshire's College's Rodbaston campus now finds itself being one of the very few zoos in the UK exhibiting the species.

They are normally only found in the wilds of Madagascar and surrounding small islands off the African coast.

Value

Proud parents Ramena and Amado are particularly pleased with their offspring as lemurs will typically produce only one baby at a time in the wild. The new arrivals have not yet been named.

Many of the animals housed at the Animal Zone are of significant conservation value and South Staffordshire College actively takes part in breeding programmes in conjunction with other zoos, with animal keepers working to ensure the optimum conditions for all the animals.

The Animal Zone is home to in excess of 1,000 animals of more than 200 species.

The college is open to the public at weekends and college holidays when visitors can enjoy "Meet the Keeper" sessions.

WIN a birthday party at children's play centre

THE owners of an indoor play centre in Cannock have extended to open a new base in Rugeley – and are offering a lucky Chronicle reader the chance to win a birthday party for themselves and up to 20 guests.

Playtime Cannock indoor children's play centre opened its doors in March at Anglesey Business Park, in Littleworth Road, Hednesford.

Now, the owners have opened up a second facility, taking over the former Wow! Castle of Fun at the Towers Business Park in Rugeley.

Playtime Rugeley has a large separate area for crawlers and toddlers, with a fantastic area for bigger children and a huge variety of play equipment.

It features all the usual indoor play equipment, suitable for children aged from nought to 11. Playtime Rugeley is open seven days a week, with play sessions for just £3 from Monday to Friday.

Hot and cold drinks are served, while children's parties can be booked for £6.99.

To stand a chance of winning the birthday party prize, just answer this simple question. What was the previous name of Playtime Rugeley?

Top marks for exam students

STAFF and pupils at Hagley Park Sports College were celebrating after record GCSE results. The maths grades at the school were the best in its history.

Some 84 per cent of Year 11 pupils achieved five or more A* to C grades, with 38 per cent of those getting 10 or more.

Ninety-seven per cent of students got five or more GCSEs, while 76 per cent got more than 10. Several students even gained 15 or more GCSE passes, or equivalent qualifications to GCSE.

They were; Sophie Moulton, Ruby Stewart, Matthew Wagg, Clarke Basford, Rachel Dagless, Callum Reay, Charlie Mountford, Charlie-Anne Harvey, Sophie Taylor and Dayna Hall.

Headteacher Liz Merryman said: "Everyone at Hagley Park Sports College is absolutely thrilled with the results our students have achieved this year.

"Students should be proud of their successes."

Activities at church

A VILLAGE church in Rugeley will be bursting with activity over the next few weeks and hopes the community will turn out to show its support.

St John the Baptist Church, in Slitting Mill, will host a back to church Sunday service on Sunday September 25, at 4pm.

At 6pm the same evening the Bishop of Wolverhampton Clive Gregory will conduct a service commissioning the Wellspring group.

On Sunday October 2 the Harvest Festival celebration will be held from 9am before the produce is auctioned off during the Harvest lunch at 12pm on October 8. Admission to the lunch is £5.

Scout hut given facelift by Lions

A PACK of volunteers have given a scout hut in Rugeley a much-needed facelift.

Members of Rugeley Lions have cleaned, decorated and refurbished the 50-year-old building in Keystone Road.

Over the course of the summer the group, who meet at St Thomas' Priory Golf Club, Armitage Park, on the first Thursday of every month, helped get the hut back in working order for when the beavers, cubs and scouts return.

Scout leader John Holmes was very appreciative of all the hard work and invited the Rugeley Lions president Mac Singleton to visit the troop and see how the improvements were helping the young people of Rugeley 'be prepared.'

Service before self is the ethos of Lions International and scouting and both organisations are always looking out for new ways to help local people or groups.

Friends ride from Land's End to John O'Groats

Pals set wheels in motion for charity

Colin Romeo

TWO RUGELEY residents are going the extra mile for charity – 1,017 of them to be precise – as they cycle from Land's End to John O'Groats.

Colin Romeo , aged 37 and his 30-year-old friend Chris Perrin are nearly halfway to completing their epic challenge, having started last Sunday (September 4).

They plan to have cycled the 1,017 mile distance by Sunday September 18, with an average of around 80 miles every day.

Colin, a bricklayer by day, plans to raise £2,500 for Cancer Research while chef Chris is aiming to collect the same amount for Help for Heroes.

The pair started training in October and Colin, whose dad recently had a cancerous tumour removed, said the whole idea came about as a bit of a joke.

"Someone mentioned that we should do it and I said 'great idea' without really realising how far it was," Colin said.

"Training has gone well and we've been massively helped out by Bridgtown Cycles, both technically with the bikes and just with general advice.

Support

"They've pointed us in the right direction and Staffordshire Graphics have also been a big help, provided a sign for out support vehicle."

Visit www.justgiving.com/colin-romeo or www.justgiving.com/chris-Perrin-end2end to donate to Colin and Chris's fundraising totals.

Town traders set out yuletide plans

TRADERS in Rugeley are already making plans to celebrate the festive season – with Christmas trees and a carol concert planned.

A tree of light is also part of the celebrations being put together by shop owners. Businesses want to put up three Christmas trees, with two positioned on the Eaton Lodge Island and in Market Square and the third going to a new site in the town's Brook Square. The trees should start going up in Rugeley by the fourth week in November.

Churches from the town are being invited to get involved with the festive celebrations and traders are already on the lookout for singing groups. They are asked to get in touch to become involved in town centre concerts aimed at getting people into the festive spirit.

Angi Cooney, of the Rugeley Traders Group, said plans were going well.

She said: "We are going to invite all of the local churches to hold a carol concert during December for everyone to attend. We want the local primary schools to get involved and maybe hold their own carol singing in the town during December.

"It would be great if the children could have some kind of Nativity scene with Mary and Joseph.

"We would look at maybe street collecting on the day for the individual school funds."

Shoppers

Other plans include inviting street entertainers to the town to entertain shoppers in the run up to the festive season as they do their Christmas shopping.

A late night shopping event is also being planned for December 2 – with market stalls set to run from the top of Upper Brook Street to Brook Square.

The Tree of Light would invite residents of the town to dedicate a light to a lost loved one.

All money raised from the tree would go towards funding the festive events.

Business booming for thatcher

BUSINESS is booming for a master thatcher from near Rugeley despite the harsh economic times.

David Wood from Handsacre said his business was virtually recession-proof. "People have to have their thatched roofs replaced and I currently have work in hand for the next two to three years," he said.

David, aged 53, thatches roofs in the week and at weekends visits country and craft shows to demonstrate his skills and has a booming sideline in selling thatched bird tables.

"They are proving very popular," said David. "They are something people can take away on the day."

As well as bird tables David also sells thatched dovecotes and roofs for wells.

He mainly thatches in Staffordshire but travels around the country and has even worked in Belgium as part of a team of thatchers.

Originally from Derbyshire, David, began thatching at the age of 13 and trained with a local master thatcher George Mellor, completing a seven-year apprenticeship.

He moved to Handsacre more than 20 years ago.

Cast members in the Lichfield Players'production of Caught in the Net

Farce sequel kicks off new season

A NEW season of plays from the Lichfield Players gets off to a riotous start at the Garrick Theatre next week.

Caught in the Net, written by Ray Cooney, is the sequel to the popular farce Run for Your Wife and takes place at the Castle Dyke venue from September 14-17.

The story revolves around bigamist taxi driver John Smith (played by Greg Spencer in his first role with the Lichfield Players), who is still busy keeping both of his families unaware of each other.

Unfortunately his son and daughter (Sam Crawford and Annie Blackwell, also new to the Players) have met on the internet and want to see each other because they have so much in common. Inevitable chaos ensues when John is forced to take ever more desperate action to keep them apart and stop his secret being exposed.

Director Jim Worrallo said: "It's fast, funny, frantic and physical."

Group members will be promoting the play in Lichfield city centre this Saturday (September 10), handing out vouchers offering a special £2 discount for the Wednesday performance.

To book tickets for the show, which cost £10, visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call the box office on 01543 412121.

Rock Dogs at Yew Tree

LOCAL indie rock band The Rock Dogs will be playing live at The Yew Tree in Norton Canes tomorrow night (Friday).

The band performs covers from the likes of Kings of Leon, Foo Fighters, The Kinks, Oasis, Kaiser Chiefs and The Arctic Monkeys among others.

Entry is free and the band should be taking to the stage around 9pm.

Nostalgic concert to aid Legion

A MUSICAL smash which takes a nostalgic look back at popular wartime songs is coming to the Prince of Wales Centre in October.

Ensatainment will feature new orchestrations and lighting designs when it is staged at the in Church Street theatre, fora three-concert run.

It is being presented by Jean Brown Productions and will raise funds for the Royal British Legion.

Sarah Williams, one of the show's stars met up with ex-servicemen and women to promote the shows, which will feature the music of Gracie Fields, Dame Vera Lynn, Glenn Miller and the Andrews Sisters.

Among those looking forward to the show is Second World War veteran Ron Mattison who fought on the front line in the Netherlands and Germany, remaining in the forces until 1949 when he joined the Territorial Army.

The 85-year-old, who grew up in Elston Hall Lane, Bushbury, and now lives in Walsall, is a member of Great Wyrley British Legion.

He said: "We had our own parties in barns, or wherever we could find behind the front lines."

Shows are at 7.30pm on October 7 and 2.30pm and 7.30pm on October 8. Tickets are £10 or £8.50 concessions. Call the box office on 01543 578762.

Sarah Williams, star of the Ensatainment show, with members of the Royal British Legion Great Wyrley branch

A competent performance by children

REVIEW – Doctor Dolittle, Ambient Night Productions Summer Workshop, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock

THE learning potential of the young never ceases to amaze and the audience at this showcase production were treated to an example of this with the principal actors being word-perfect after only two weeks of daily rehearsals.

Adam Seagar, director and musical director, wisely used the differing abilities of the 20-strong group, whose ages ranged from seven to 15. Every person was a named character rather than being a chorus member.

The simple stage-setting was just right, as were the costumes. The singing was, for the most part, of a high standard and the dialogue was clear and confidently delivered.

Special mention to Robert Ellis as Dr Dolittle and Tayler Loach as Emma Fairfax, who both gave extremely mature performances.

The overall production was competent but a little extra 'life' could have been generated if more time had been afforded in drilling the cast in the set pieces.

However, the aim of these workshops is not necessarily the end presentation but the experiences gained by those taking part and the future possibilities that might ensue.

The children must have been thrilled to have been part of this production.Hopefully this will be their first step towards a life-long interest in theatre.

LAW & ORDER: SPECIAL VICTIMS UNIT
Channel 5, 8.50pm

The Law & Order franchise is in serious decline at the moment. The original show, despite being the longest-running drama on US TV, has been axed, and out of the four spin-offs, and only one remains in production – Special Victims Unit. But we're a wee bit behind our American cousins, so we've got another two seasons to view before the show changes almost beyond recognition. In the meantime, season nine rumbles on with an episode involving the theft of 100 eggs from Hudson Cryobank, a clinic that stores frozen embryos. Crime drama, starring Mariska Hargitay.

2011 – Year of the Bible

Bible Reading Group

This year is the 400th anniversary of the King James ('Authorised') Version of the English Bible. But the Bible is more than 400 years old. The earliest books of the Old Testament were written nearly 4000 years ago, while the New Testament is 2000 years old. Together they form the Holy Scriptures which record God's purpose with the earth – and with us. This really is a book worth reading.
Have you ever thought about reading the Bible?

Start reading the Bible with us

The Cannock Christadelphians hold a lively and instructive Bible Reading Group on Monday evenings at 7.45 pm. We have just completed reading the Book of Daniel and now plan to read the BOOK OF GENESIS.
Come along on the first evening Monday 12th September at 7.45 pm to get a flavour of the group.

A Bible will be provided.
There is no need to register.
Just turn up

Learn how the book of Genesis can help us to understand the gospels.

How does it work?

A portion of the book is read.
We then discuss the passage, looking at other relevant parts of Scripture.
The next chapter is read and discussed and the process repeated.
Tea and biscuits are served during the evening.

Venue:

Committee Room, Christadelphian Hall,
Price Street, Cannock WS11 0DS
Starting Monday 12th September, 7.45 pm

The course is free and at no time will we ask you to become a Christadelphian

BIG BROTHER

Channel 5, 10pm

In the early days regular Big Brother was nearly always more entertaining than CBB because everyday people were often far more watchable than celebs, not least because they went on more of a journey! (Yes, the most ubiquitous word in reality TV land). Now, with a generation groomed for instant stardom via the Big Brother lenses, it's a different story. Whether you love or loathe it, there's no denying it can make for compelling TV as we see here with highlights of the new house-mates' first full day inside. Assuming no bitterness do a "Brian Belo" and win the show, there's a good chance the winner is in the house now. But who will win? You decide.

Insignia VXR has badge of quality – everywhere

By Neil Ward

VAUXHALL has a history of producing sporting cars and have competed in many forms of motor sport over the years, which has delivered some storming cars.

The icon from my day was the original Astra GTE, one of the first hot hatches of the 80s. However, time waits for no-one and the requirements in our modern times are somewhat more sophisticated.

We want high performance handling, which has to be comfortable for everyone, not an ironing board ride, engines that deliver huge amounts of horsepower but sip fuel like a moped, practical luggage space for a whole family and to cap it all we want it to be reasonably priced!

In order to answer these requirements Vauxhall has the VXR range which is the sporting arm of the factory. The one I have on test is the Insignia VXR 2.8 V6 in what I call fire engine red but is fittingly called 'Power Red' in the catalogue.

The shape of the Insignia will be familiar but the VXR has some different features. The first item to grab you is the wheels, which are 20-inch jobs with wide rubber band style low profile tyres.

Even if you're not interested in cars, they immediately signal that this is different from the rest of the range.

The front bumper also sports some mesh grills which are not just there for show but help cool down the big brake discs and the Brembo brake calipers that are visible through the wheels.

To finish off the ensemble there is a pair of tasteful sports exhausts sticking out of the rear bumper. Then, if you are under any illusion as to what this car is there are VXR badges everywhere.

The VXR theme continues inside with instrument panels, gear lever, pedals and a three spoke steering wheel that is flat at the bottom all being suitably badged. Oh, and as you get in there are VXR alloy sill covers again reminding you that you are entering a different beast from the normal family car.

The front seats are Recaro and are beautifully supportive in all the right places, achieving the comfort and firmness that enable you to tackle almost any form of driving.

Other manufacturers should take note of this. Too many times I have driven high performance versions of family cars to find that the seat is designed for a race-track where even a wallet in the back pocket can mean you don't fit in the seat.

The Insignia VXR is fitted with Vauxhall's latest version of its 2.8litre 24v Turbo V6 which produces a pleasing 325 brake horsepower and is fitted to an excellent auto box which helps distribute the power to the four-wheel drive system.

The sound it makes when you bury the throttle pedal and the way it eats up the road would scare many so-called sports cars.

With 0-60 coming up in 5.9 seconds this is a serious performance car and the excellent four-wheel drive never seems to interfere but does allow the tyres to provide massive amounts of grip in pretty much any situation, providing confidence in being able to use the power when you want and not just in the straight line on a dual carriageway or motorway.

Now I have left the best bit until last – the handling. The previous Vectra VXR was a fearsome beast with huge amounts of understeer. If you drove one of those cars, banish its memory from your mind.

The Insignia VXR has been tested extensively on the fearsome Nürburgring race track to ensure that its road manners are impeccable and I have to say the time the engineers spent there has been worth every penny.

For a car of this size to handle the way it does with a surefooted nimbleness is amazing and will have you looking for the sign that indicates the road has loads of bends.

Sadly, this also means that you are going to h… home from just about anywhere and ex… "the car broke down" (unlikely), "the roa… (possibe) and my all-time favourite "I needed… at work" are all going to wear thin pretty…

So if you are looking for something… that is comfortable, practical, ac… and their luggage and will thril… and handling with the added … big smile to your face ever… then buy one.

On the other hand if bei… constantly and having to co… more ingenious excuses to… half as to why you are late … worry you might want to avoid this car.

But if I can influence your decision in any way, and provide you with another excuse, it is this: Blame me, (for clarity that's Neil spelt N-e-i-l). I would recommend the doghouse every time. Trust me, it's worth it!

Panda launch at Frankfurt show

FIAT will be unveiling its new Panda at the Frankfurt Motor Show this weekend.

The new arrival, which will go on sale in UK next spring, is the next step for this highly successful city car.

Remaining true to its compact design brief, the new Panda has grown by a few centimetres to ensure the highest safety standards, and improve the generous level of passenger and luggage space.

With an overall length of 365cm, width of 164cm and height of 155cm, new Panda can comfortably accommodate up to five people and has one of the largest luggage compartments in its segment.

Segment

Panda was the first car in its market segment (A), to win the Car of the Year award (in 2004). It was the first compact (less than 4m in length) to have a diesel engine (1986), and first to offer four-wheel drive (1983) and a range of eco-friendly engines designed to limit fuel consumption. Panda Elettra, introduced in 1990, was one of the first electric cars.

In its third generation, new Panda has made more advances in comfort, technology and safety equipment, making its first public appearance with a modern and harmonious new style, but without relinquishing the essential family feeling that has characterised the marque over the years.

An flexible interior and an elegant exterior featuring softer, rounded shapes bring new Panda into focus as an engineering project which dedicated to improve an already successful model.

Construction quality and vehicle reliability have been improved, and while its exterior dimensions are an invaluable feature for a car principally for urban use, it is easily capable of tackling longer and tougher journeys.

The new engine range emphasises cutting-edge technology. Customers will be able to choose from two TwinAir twin cylinder engines: the International Engine of the Year 2011 85bhp TwinAir Turbo, or the brand new 65bhp naturally aspirated TwinAir, both with Start and Stop as standard.

The recently revised four cylinder 69bhp 1.2 litre Fire engine completes the petrol engine range at launch, but a state-of-the-art turbodiesel 75bhp 1.3 litre MultiJet 2 engine, also with Start and Stop as standard, will also be offered.

New Panda also offers a gearshift indicator, which helps drivers use the engine more efficiently, and reduce fuel consumption. At launch, the new Panda will be front-wheel drive only, but a four-wheel drive version is planned.

Device

Safety has been a priority in the design, and new Panda has four airbags, ABS anti-lock braking with a brake assist system, front seat belts with pre-tensioners and load limiters, Isofix attachments for child seats, anti-whiplash front head restraints, rear headrests, and Daytime Running Lights as standard.

In addition, new Panda has been engineered to accept Blue&Me-TomTom LIVE, a device that combines an infotainment system with a portable navigator.

The system allows new Panda drivers to use mobile phones and media players in complete safety, without removing their hands from the steering wheel, while providing a unique and distinctive navigational experience, built into the dashboard, and offering accurate and up to the minute traffic information.

Kia parades its Rio hatchback

KIA will be showing a selection of its environmentally conscious Eco-Dynamics models at this week's EcoVelocity Low Carbon Motor Festival in London.

The new Rio hatchback will makes its UK public debut at the exhibition.

Visitors to the show, held from September 8-11 in the grounds of Battersea Power Station, will have the opportunity to inspect the all-new Rio and the new Picanto city-car at close quarters, as well as low-emission versions of the cee'd family hatchback and Sportage crossover on a purpose built test route.

Test drives in the congestion charge-exempt Picanto will be available on a turn-up and drive basis.

The new Rio is set to be the cleanest non-electric vehicle in the world - emitting just 85g/km CO2 and offering 88.3mpg in 1.1 CRDi '1' guise - when it goes on sale.

The extremely efficient three-cylinder diesel engine is aided in its quest to deliver ultra low CO2 emissions by longer gearing, a stop-start system, low-rolling resistance tyres and aerodynamic tweaks to reduce drag.

Joining the Rio on the Kia stand will be the recently launched Picanto.

Emissions

Available now for the first time in both three- and five-door versions, the new Picanto is offered with a 99g/km 1.0-litre engine and a 1.25-litre with emissions from 100g/km when combined with Kia's 'Intelligent Stop and Go' stop-start system.

Kia's stylish Sportage crossover, with its 135g/km1.7 CRDi EcoDynamics turbodiesel and the cee'd hatchback with its very low 103g/km 1.6 CRDi turbodiesel will also be on display. For more information about Kia's EcoDynamics range of vehicles go to www.kia.co.uk

The Audi S8 is a large and luxurious top of the range saloon

The Audi S6 has average fuel consumption of 29.1mpg

Audi's fresh power quartet

THE 2011 Frankfurt Motor Show will play host to four high-performance Audi S models sharing one new eight-cylinder engine. The new powerplant enables them to counterbalance outputs of up to 520PS with the potential for up to 29mpg.

The new bi-turbo V8, incorporating cylinder-on-demand technology and a host of other advances, replaces the naturally aspirated V10 FSI engine in the all-new S6, S6 Avant and S8 models, and in the process improves economy by as much as 25 per cent. It is also at the heart of a completely new addition to the S quattro Series – the new S7 Sportback.

In the S6 and S6 Avant the new 4.0-litre, twin-turbo V8 delivers ample power with fuel economy in keeping with the times. It appears here in 420PS form, and provides a constant 550Nm of torque from 1,400 to 5,300rpm, enough to catapult the S6 from 0 to 62mph in 4.8 seconds and the S6 Avant in 4.9 seconds, and to spur them on to an electronically governed top speed of 155mph.

Performance

The 4.0 TFSI brings Audi's downsizing strategy to the high-performance class. Compared to the 5.2-litre V10, it offers even stronger performance while reducing fuel consumption by as much as 25 per cent. Average fuel consumption is 29.1mpg in the S6 and 28.8mpg in the S6 Avant, well above that of the competition.

The two new S models are fitted as standard with adaptive air suspension in its firmer "sport" configuration. The tautly tuned air suspension with variable damping lowers the body by 10mm, and provides for highly precise handling without compromising comfort. Four 19-inch cast aluminium wheels in a unique five parallel spoke design frame the black calipers of the powerful front and rear internally ventilated disc brakes, which can be replaced by carbon fibre-ceramic discs as an option.

The Audi S7 Sportback uses the same engine as the S6 and S6 Avant – the new 4.0 TFSI with 420PS and 550Nm of torque. The twin-turbo V8 accelerates the five-door coupe from 0 to 62mph in 4.9 seconds, and top speed is limited to 155mph. The cultivated eight-cylinder, which uses Audi's "cylinder on demand" technology under part load, achieves an impressive combined economy figure of 29.1mpg.

The S7 Sportback is fitted as standard with adaptive air suspension sport and the Audi drive select dynamics system. Mounted behind the 19-inch wheels are large, internally ventilated disc brakes front and rear. Their black calipers are stamped with S7 logos at the front. Carbon fibre-ceramic discs are available as an option. Other chassis options include 20-inch wheels and dynamic steering, which varies its ratio as a function of speed.

Sublime

The Audi S8 is the new head of the Audi S model family – a large and luxurious saloon that can deliver sublime comfort or supreme excitement as required. The new 4.0-litre TFSI in the S8 generates no less than 520PS and delivers a constant 650Nm of torque to the crankshaft between 1,700 and 5,500rpm. The result is outstanding performance: the sprint from zero to 62mph takes just 4.2 seconds, and top speed is electronically capped at 155mph.

This makes the fuel consumption of the sonorous and smooth twin-turbo V8 all the more amazing: It averages 27.7mpg on the combined cycle, a considerable gain over its competitors, and its predecessor – the 5.2-litre V10 in the previous S8 posted 21.4mpg in the equivalent test. This has been achieved despite a 70PS increase in output.

The new Audi S8 strikes its impressive balance between performance and efficiency with the combined technologies of the Audi modular efficiency platform, including the recuperation and start-stop systems. The newly developed "cylinder on demand" technology also plays a very significant role.

Under part load, it deactivates four of the eight cylinders for an efficiency gain that is particularly pronounced at moderate motorway speeds. A package of acoustic measures including the Active Noise Cancellation system suppresses possible intrusive noise and vibrations.

The eight-speed tiptronic in the S8 unites sportiness and efficiency. It uses tall gears at low revs when possible, but downshifts quickly and comfortably when requested. The tiptronic delivers the power to a quattro drivetrain combining a self-locking centre differential with the sport differential on the rear axle.

During dynamic driving, the lion's share of the power flows to the outside wheel to literally push the large saloon into the corner.

Chevrolet finds a spark at the show with Volt

Chevrolet's Volt was first through the door at the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders exhibition

THE revolutionary Chevrolet Volt has been welcomed as the first vehicle to appear in the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders' (SMMT) showroom-style exhibition area at its new premises in the heart of Westminster.

The space provides an opportunity to highlight the breadth and scale of the modern UK automotive industry to visitors and passers-by in a prime, central London location.

The Volt was driven onto its new display stand in electric-only mode and even managed to avoid London's Congestion Charge en route thanks to its innovative electric drivetrain, E-REV (Extended-Range Electric Vehicle), which powers the car's wheels directly.

Battery

The petrol engine generates power for the battery, giving the car a maximum range of 60 miles in full electric mode.

The Chevrolet Volt has already won several awards in the USA, where the vehicle was crowned North American Car of the Year, as well as winning recognition from titles such as Motor Trend and Automobile Magazine.

The Volt goes on sale in the UK in March 2012, and is eligible for the full £5,000 from the government's plug-in car grant.

Customers interested in finding out more about the Chevrolet Volt can visit the dedicated Volt customer site at www.voltchevrolet.co.uk.

Parent

The Chevrolet brand celebrates its centenary this year, and is the world's fourth largest car brand.

Its parent company, General Motors, announced the Chevrolet brand would be coming to Europe at the 2004 Paris Motor Show, and launched the brand in all major European markets, including the UK, in 2005.

In that time, Chevrolet has grown to achieve sales of over 500,000 units across Europe, and a pan-European market share of more than one per cent.

You want to buy a second-hand car.

Just something that's fuel-efficient. But it needs a bit of power – your neighbourhood's quite hilly and your groceries can be so heavy. And it's nice to have an engine that roars.

Louise Colwell from Cannock with her prize-winning Shetland ponies, left, Longfield Panda, and Wenlockedge Pepper

Louise is a rein-ing champion

A CANNOCK horsewoman took the reins at a national contest – and rode back home with five titles.

Louise Colwell entered in her Miniature Shetland Ponies, Wenlockedge Pepper and Longfield Panda in the MIDARC National Championships on August 28.

Wenlockedge Pepper, a three-year-old, Cream Dun Colt, has been with Louise for two years. Louise said: "After our first successful In-Hand Showing season, we surprisingly won Two Class Championships in the young stock Shetland and M & M Small Breeds Except Welsh, and then went on to win the Supreme Ring Champion."

Louise added to her prize collection with six year old Longfield Panda a Skewbald Stallion, who has been with Louise for five years.

He has been on the In-Hand Showing circuit for many years, where together they have had many successes. Louise added: "We unexpectedly won the Championship for the Best Turned Out Class, which was a strong class of 12 competitors. We then went on to win Reserve Champion in the four years and over Class. This again had at least 12 competitors. This is Longfield Panda's second successful Championship."

Louise's parents Janet and John and her partner Carl said Louise fully deserved her wins, for all of her hard work, dedication and love she gives all of her animals.

Firsts close to joining fellow title winners

PENKRIDGE 1STS (152-4) BEAT SWINDON (151) BY SIX WICKETS

PENKRIDGE 1st XI are within touching distance of the Birmingham League after beating Swindon on Saturday to stay nine points clear of their nearest rivals Milford going into the last game of the season this weekend.

Swindon were asked to bat when Penkridge won the toss and Todd Henderson (47) and Paul Wale (35) set off at a lively pace. Laeq Chishti (3-53) accounted for these two scalps and then it was left to spinner Mo Hassan to return season-best figures of 6-20 as Swindon faltered to 151 all out in the 37th over.

Consistent opening pair Alex Watson (35) and Saleem Malik (28) gave Penkridge a trouble free start and then in-form Ronnie Hassan (52 not out) took over the role as main run scorer as Penkridge cruised to a straightforward victory by six wickets wickets in the 32nd over.

PENKRIDGE 2NDS (359-8) DREW WITH SWINDON (225-3)

The 2nd XI retained their Division 1A title with a game to spare. A winning draw against Swindon was sufficient to clinch the silverware, as second placed Milford lost against Old Wulfs.

Swindon were batted out of the game by a dominant Penkridge as they racked up a season's best 359-8 in their 50 overs. Kev Baker (40) got the ball rolling, Liam Kettle (92) maintained the momentum in the middle of the innings and then a whirlwind 93 not out from Jon Price from just 48 balls at the end of the innings set up the huge total. Stand-in Swindon skipper Brendan Smith finished with 4-77.

Penkridge never threatened to bowl out the Swindon line-up, however, with Fitz Cameron, Simon Perkins and Matt Perkins all recording half centuries in their reply of 225-3.

PENKRIDGE 3RDS (271-8) BEAT CODSALL (122) BY 149 RUNS

The 3rd XI also won their division on Saturday as they beat second placed Codsall in some style.

Mohammed Shafiq (95), Mo Ishfaq (34) and Khalid Sadiq (60) set Penkridge on their way to 271-8 from their 50 overs.

In reply Codsall managed 122 all out in 30 overs as they found the Penkridge bowling attacked too hot to handle.

Nadeem Tariq led the way with 4-34, as Penkridge took 24 points from the game.

CANNOCK 3RDS (205-7) BEAT RUSHALL 3RDS (127) BY 78 RUNS

After the disappointment of the previous week's losing draw at Aldridge Cannock finished their league campaign in style with a 78-run victory away to Rushall.

But with second placed Old Wulfs also winning Cannock's lead at the top of the table is just 19 points with Old Wulfs still having a game to play.

Cannock won the toss and decided to bat and an opening partnership of 85 between Aaron Wilkes (31) and Ant Wood (45), along with good contributions from Kev Pearce (24) and Tom Bull (45) saw Cannock declare after 47 overs with the score on 205-7.

A fine opening spell from Jack Twigger and Tom Bull somehow remained wicketless.

The introduction to the attack of Ant Wood (4-13) and Dan Wood (5-53) saw the wickets start to fall at regular intervals with Everall (24) and Colclough (21 no) making good contributions for Rushall.

With six overs remaining Jack Twigger (1-23) took a well deserved wicket to wrap things up for Cannock.

WOMEN'S FOOTBALL

PELSALL VILLA 2 SHENSTONE LADIES 5

SHENSTONE came out on top for the second week running against league champions Pelsall.

In an even first half Pelsall went in at half time 1-0 up after their lively centre forward had flicked the ball up over the Shenstone defence to then volley into the top corner.

In the second half Shenstone were slow out of the blocks and were punished when Pelsall got a second goal just after the restart.

Five minutes later the quick thinking Kelly Jarvis volleyed over the keeper from 25 yards and a further five minutes on saw the cool Loren Evans rifle home the equaliser from outside the 18 yard box.

Shenstone were now firmly on top and further goals from Loren Evans,Sophie Wilding and the hard working Dee Rose-Laing rounded off a great all round team performance.

LICHFIELD DIAMONDS 5 KINGSHURST 1

Diamonds got off to a flier in their opening league fixture. It took just 17 seconds for new signing Karen Clough to open the scoring from a tight angle.

The early setback rattled a useful Kingshurst side and Kim Hill was next to strike as the hosts dominated, quickly followed by a great finish from the corner of the box by Alison Livermore. The half ended with Diamonds four goals to the good thanks to another Clough goal.

The second half was a more even affair and after Diamonds had missed several good chances Kingshurst pulled a goal back with a good volley into the top corner. The city girls finished the stronger with Hill rounding off the scoring.

TAMWORTH LADIES 15 LADIES UNITED 0

What a start to the season for the girls from Tamworth who came up against the newly promoted Ladies United.

A corner from Lou Gibson was headed home by Donna Bridgewater after five minutes before new signing Michaela Adams scored two in a five-minute spell. She completed a first half hat-trick, with Bridgewater also adding to her tally.

Another Adams strike opened the second half floodgates. Scarlett Fielding scored a hat-trick and Bridgwater went on to score four.

Girl of the Game though was Adams, who ended up with eight goals.

Roxy Thornton also took the plaudits for her defensive work.

SILVERDALE LADIES 0 CHASETOWN LADIES 3

The first league game of the season turned out to be more like a friendly in the warm conditions. The match was played in a sociable atmosphere and Chasetown dominated long periods of the game.

Newly promoted Silverdale put in a good performance but lacked the experience and ability that Chasetown possessed.

Too many chances went begging before eventually Chasetown took the lead in the 40th minute through Lyndsey Turner, who calmly passed the ball into the corner of the net with the goalkeeper stranded.

Half-time sub Dani Wright created the chance for Jodie Kinsey to set up Carly Edwards for the second.

Wright then set up the third, allowing Jade Arber to round the keeper and slot home.

Overall a comfortable game for Chasetown. A major plus was the league debut of Amy Falmer, who had an excellent game in defence. Player of the match was Lyndsey Turner who controlled the midfield.

First XI start their pre-season with a resounding win

HOCKEY

CANNOCK MENS 1ST XI 10 BURTON 1ST XI 0

A GOOD win for the 'Nockers' as they begin their pre-season with a resounding win. Burton who won promotion to Midlands Premier Division were no match for a young and enthusiastic Cannock team.

Missing a number of regulars and giving run outs to some youngsters, Cannock turned in a controlled performance. Hat-tricks for Tom Morris and Dave Harris were supported by braces from Matt Plunkett and Arjan Chana. Thanks to Jay Patel and Paul Parker who umpired the game well and allowed the game to flow.

CANNOCK 1ST XI 5 SHEFFIELD HALLAM 1ST XI 0

A winning weekend for a new-look Cannock with two wins in a weekend following Thursday's game. Saturday's win 5-0 against Sheffield HC was comprehensive with keeper Paul Parker hardly tested.

Needing to show more resilience in defence, Cannock kept their second clean sheet in two games. Down the other end, goals by Marc Edwards, Ross Hayward, Jack Middleton, Tom Morris and Dave Harris sealed the victory which could have been a lot more if it wasn't from an impressive goalkeeping display by the Yorkshire keeper.

CANNOCK 1ST XI 4 PETERBOROUGH 1ST XI 1

Sunday saw the return to Chase Park for Gareth Andrew and his hometown team Peterborough. Recently promoted to the National League, they face a tough test in the Eastern Conference. Andrew the National League's top scorer two seasons ago while playing for Cannock, also scored in the Chase club's last European outing.

Andrew showed his class with a sweet strike after 10 minutes, out-running a tired looking defence, the first goal conceded this season.

However, this only proved to spur on the Cannock team and by half time they had drew with a powerful short corner drag flick from Dave Harris.

Harris then proceeded to score a hat-trick with the hard working and powerful Marc Edwards finishing off a sublime move. This weekend Cannock 1st XI are in Cookstown, Northern Ireland to continue their pre season.

CANNOCK LADIES 3RD XI 1 SHREWSBURY LADIES 2NDS 1

Cannock Ladies returned for a new season with all girls happy to be back playing.

The opening game for new third team captain Stacy Mound saw a trip to a Shrewsbury side that will be playing a division higher this season.

Cannock took a deserved lead after a great ball from Sammie Holland was converted by Sophie Tibbetts, but they could not hold onto the lead.

The result was not important, however, as it was great start for the team on which great things can now be built upon. Coach Alex Hill will be looking to improve upon last year's sixth place finish.

LICHFIELD MENS 1STS 5 HARBORNE 2

With only one pre-season friendly under their belt and three debutants in the match day squad, Lichfield's game against Harborne was more about team fluency than winning.

Lichfield picked up where they left off from last season and the reigning Midlands Premier champions took an early lead through Danny Campbell.

Harborne equalised and then took a shock lead through a well worked short corner.

Lichfield soon levelled, though, through Foster and never looked back. Will Backhouse put Lichfield 3-2 up, Foster and Webb made it 5-2 and attention now turns to this weekend's tournament in Bristol ahead of the opening league game against Birmingham University on September 18.

LADIES 4TH XI 5 BARTON 2

In their first match of the 2011/12 season Lichfield Ladies 4ths got off to a flying start with a 5-1 win over Barton 2nds.

Lichfield dominated from the start and played some good hockey, even though it was evident that this was a pre-season friendly.

They were three goals up by half time thanks to a hat-trick from captain Prue Nickson.

In the second half Barton pulled one back, but Nickson netted again. Newcomer Emma Harper scored the fifth– a great start in her first match.

Sally Jeffries was voted Girl of the Game after a tireless performance in midfield.

RUGELEY 15 CANNOCK 24 – OWEN CUP

RUGELEY welcomed Cannock to Hagley fields with an early start due to a fireworks display later in the evening.

From the onset Cannock began like a rocket and dominated the game by scoring and converting a try within the first 19 minutes.

Rugeley settled in to the game and were able to show Cannock that the summer training had been of value as the home side's set play was looking very good.

Skipper Mathew Williscroft once again led from the front, while the younger additions showed their worth with some outstanding performances from Mitchell Everall, Jake Graham and Jamie Simons all showing they will be a force to reckon with in the coming months.

Replacement Chris Dynda proved t his involvement in the game was a bonus as no sooner had he pulled his boots on he was instrumental in creating and then scoring the well-deserved and much-needed first try for Rugeley.

The home team then opted to go for goal midway into the second half and with usual ease and finesse Adam Grocott converted the penalty bringing the score to a more respectable 10-19. Cannock once again came back at Rugeley resulting in a try by the visitors, at the restart the home side upped their game with Cieran Griffin creating and could have scored but instead he passed the ball to his captain to score a well-deserved try with only two minutes left in the game.

The game ended with Cannock the victors and Rugeley rubbing their wounds and the coaching team going back to the drawing board.

This weekend, both the first and second teams are on their travels. All players are asked to be at the Vine for 12.30pm prompt. Training takes place on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

RUGELEY RUGBY CLUB

City side gets quickly down to business

LICHFIELD 57 STRATFORD 5

SATURDAY marked the long awaited return of League rugby to Cooke Fields and after a tough pre season, Lichfield were desperate to get down to the real business, starting with the visit of Stratford.

The home side started the game sluggishly and only last ditch defending denied the Stratford no.8 an early score.

Stirred into action, it was Lichfield who struck first, the returning Sam Baker profiting from a Greg Massey cut out pass to score out wide. The try on 10 minutes proved the catalyst for a sizzling 25 minute spell that ultimately decided the game.

Stratford could not cope as Lichfield drastically upped the tempo. The abrasive Will Cotterhill was a constant threat at 9, ably supported by hard hitting no.8 Mike Goodwin who impressed throughout on his debut.

Lively

Perrins and Turner also turned in strong performances within a forward pack that had been beset by injuries and disruption in the build up.

Baker's try was swiftly followed by five more before the break.

Brad Rowlands (2), Josh Massey and Tom Adams all crossed, while Greg Massey capped a lively display with a fine solo effort. Brother Josh was successful with four first half conversions.

The second half, perhaps unsurprisingly, failed to hit the heights of the first.

Lichfield appeared content with their day's work, and never fully returned to their early intensity. But there were to be further plus points for coach Nic Sporcic as Cotterhill coasted in for a 51st minute try, before debutant Rowlands was at it again. The young winger showed searing pace and finishing instinct to complete a deserved hat-trick.

The Lichfield scrum was imposing throughout, giving a strong foundation from which the backs could strike. Team structure was much improved from the previous week, and quick press in defence was rewarded with a final interception try from Adams. The inside centre sealing his timely return from holiday injury with a second try. Josh Massey added a further two conversions, for a total personal haul of 17 points.

Irritatingly, it was Stratford who had the final word, but on the plus side, it had taken them 73 minutes to register any points at all.

An encouraging start for the Greens as they go top of the table after week one, but an 80 minute performance will certainly be needed at Sutton this weekend.

Players double up for tennis tournament

CANNOCK Tennis Club is serving up a treat for players this weekend by hosting a men's open doubles tournament.

The tournament is open to members of the club as well as non-members and is taking place on Sunday (September 11).

It comes after a successful singles tournament staged last month which saw club member Darren Hughes walk off as Cannock Tennis Club Singles Open champion 2011.

There will be prizes on offer to the winners and runners up. Entry fee is £6 per pair for club members and £10 for non-members.

A recruitment drive for the two men's teams who play in the Wilson Staffordshire Inter-Club Tennis League is currently taking place and the event will also be an opportunity for non-members to come along and see what the club has to offer.

Club spokesman Andy Richardson said: "The singles tournament we held last month was really successful. We are hoping for just as good response to the doubles tournament."

Teams will be split into two groups in a round robin format with the top two in each group making it into the semi-finals and then final. Players need to turn up at 9.30am for the draw with the tournament lasting until around 4pm. Teams need to be registered before the day by calling Andy Richardson on 07866 212026.

The club plays on astro courts based at the Cannock Cricket and Hockey Club, in Church Lane, Hatherton. The club's doubles A team play in Division 2 South while the B team play in Division 6 South.

Club night is Monday and members regularly arrange to play either doubles or singles social games during the week and at a weekend. Membership is just £70 for the year. For more details call Andy on 07866 212026 or visit www.cannocktennis.co.uk

Scholars striker Gary Hay in a tussle against Bradford Park Avenue

Scholars pay penalty as 10-man hosts clinch win

CHASETOWN FC

Branch injury blow

CHASETOWN 0 MICKLEOVER SPORTS 1, TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 6

A SERIOUS injury to John Branch overshadowed Chasetown's 1-0 defeat to Mickleover Sports on a damp Tuesday evening.

It was a rather uninspiring night at the Scholars Ground before a reduced crowd due to the England/Wales clash.

Kieran O'Connell gave Sports the lead from the penalty spot shortly before half time, but the result was rendered irrelevant after winger Branch was stretchered off with a suspected broken kneecap in the closing minutes.

Sports had the ball in the net on 23 minutes but the effort was disallowed for offside. The stalemate was broken in the 44th minute when Chris Slater conceded a penalty and O'Connell stepped up to send Price the wrong way.

Jordan Johnson made a second half debut for the Scholars after signing from AFC Telford United. He replaced Alex Steadman and he was straight into the action forcing a corner which was headed clear. Johnson enjoyed a chance following a further Mark Branch free kick but could not add the finishing touch.

With two minutes to go disaster struck for John Branch as after receiving treatment following a clash he attempted to take the resulting free kick, but his knee gave way and he was stretchered off.

Chasetown will aim to pick themselves up when they entertain Frickley Athletic on Saturday. Kick off at 3pm.

BRADFORD PARK AVENUE 2 CHASETOWN 1, SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 3

CHASETOWN came off second best against a 10-man Bradford on Saturday.

The Scholars defence looked disorganised from the off and Avenue were ahead after only three minutes. Adam Clayton's free kick was met by Ross Daly who drew the ball inside Jimmy Turner and slotted back across Ryan Price to put the hosts ahead.

On 19 minutes Nathan Hotte blocked a Lee Parsons shot with his hand and was instantly sent off. Jake Sedgemore slammed the resulting penalty kick home and the Scholars were level.

Chasetown had a good chance to take the lead on 32 minutes when Alex Steadman forced a way between the last defender and keeper Lamb, but the former Mickleover man's flicked shot bounced off Lamb's legs and he was able to gather the loose ball.

Gary Hay enjoyed a brace of chances for the Scholars as the second half began, his first opportunity seeing his header too close to Lamb before the striker headed down Sedgemore's free kick with Lamb again saving with his legs. Richard Marshall had the ball in the net for Avenue on 55 minutes but the flag was up for offside

On 63 minutes just after Parsons had seen a shot blocked following an attack by Ben Jevons and Steadman, the play moved straight to the other end and Chris Slater's handball as Nicky Boshell cut in earned the hosts a penalty.

Price dived the correct way but home skipper Rob O'Brien's kick was just out of his reach and Avenue were back in front.

Late goal 'steels' a point for the visitors

HEDNESFORD TOWN

HEDNESFORD TOWN 1 STOCKSBRIDGE PARK STEELS 1 SATURDAY SEPTEMBER 3

HEDNESFORD Town assistant manager Larry Chambers expressed his disappointment at seeing his side, top of the league before kick-off, concede a late Stocksbridge Park Steels equaliser to lose a valuable two points.

Jack Muldoon scored a sucker punch counter attacking goal to level proceedings in the 87th minute.

"Today was a great opportunity to pick up three home points," said Chambers. "We needed another goal which, in fairness, we didn't look like getting and were punished for it at the end. "

"Bad decisions in the build up to their goal where the ball should have been cleared twice cost us as the goal came from our corner."

The Pitmen, coming off the back of an astonishing 5-4 derby win against Stafford Rangers on Bank Holiday Monday, were favourites to brush aside the away team in front of a very encouraging gate of 621 at Keys Park on National Non-League Day.

Muldoon wasted a clear opportunity in the opening five minutes for Stocksbridge as Hednesford's defence left him free to shoot wide of Dan Crane's far post. Monday's hat-trick hero Marvin Robinson looked a threat for the Pitmen as he twice came close to opening the scoring; first heading wide from a Phil Clarke cross and again controlling a flighted ball in from the right-wing back before seeing his shot well smothered by Ben Scott on 15 minutes.

The away side set up defensively to soak up pressure from the league leaders and then relied on the hold up play by giant striker Brett Lovell to gain a foothold in the game. In truth, neither side passed the ball well during the first half but it was the Pitmen who could have broken the deadlock when Chris Clements played in Darren Campion. The left wing-back took an extra touch and saw Scott block the ball out for a corner on the stroke of half time.

Hednesford opened the scoring on 59 minutes when a brave pass by Jamey Osborne beat goalkeeper Ben Scott to a through ball and set-up Danny Quinn for an easy finish into the net to send the Pitmen on their way. However the home side struggled to build on their one-goal lead and Cheyenne Dunkley cleared a Stocksbridge shot off the line to preserve one-goal advantage moving into the final five minutes.

Chris Clements saw his shot scooped away from danger by Scott before, following a Hednesford corner, Stocksbridge counter-attacked with gusto, Bailey and Clarke should have cleared their lines, and Muldoon nipped in to finish smartly past Crane to rescue a point.

Geldart's volley in vain for Hayes

WESTFIELDS 2 HEATH HAYES 1

HEATH HAYES FC

HAYES missed a golden opportunity to inflict a first Midland Alliance defeat of the season on the Hereford side.

Despite having the lion's share of play in the second half, Heath Hayes lacked the guile and imagination to unlock a well organised home defence.

Chris Deakin came close to giving the visitors an early lead with a thunderous 20 yard drive but home keeper Jamie Moore somehow managed to divert the ball onto the bar and the danger was cleared.

Moments later they had strong claims for a penalty turned down. The home side suddenly clicked into gear and on 18 minutes took the lead. Carl Morgan, who was being allowed far to much room on the right wing, swung over an excellent cross which Ben Massey failed to cut out and Aidan Thomas scored with ease. Two minutes later they doubled their lead, again from a Morgan cross, this time headed home by Anthony Robbins.

Westfields looked as if they would run riot and it was only some excellent goalkeeping from Adam Jenkins and a superb goalline clearance from Lee Stretton which prevented them adding to their tally.

As the game became niggly, with some rash challenges, Westfields Dan Price received his marching orders following a cynical tackle.

Hayes rejigged with Dave Waple, who had been missing for the last four games, replacing Sean Daly, giving them more of an attacking threat. But despite dominating the possession, Hayes were still unable to carve out any clear cut chances.

A further change saw the introduction of Chris Geldart who struck home a magnificent 30-yard volley. Sadly it was too little too late and Westfields took the three points to move to the top of the table.

This Saturday (September 10), Hayes travel to Sporting Khalsa in the FA Vase.

Frantic finish, but Pics hold on to claim points

RUSHALL OLYMPIC 2 HEDNESFORD TOWN 1, TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 6

RUSHALL Olympic held on for a hard fought victory against Hednesford Town.

The home side capitalised on first half defensive mistakes by a high-flying Pitmen side who will feel frustrated at not claiming a point.

Substitute Danny Quinn's late goal forced a late surge and Rob Smith's side besieged Rushall's goal, twice hitting the upright and seeing both Quinn and Marvin Robinson come close to force a draw.

In a first half played with a strong cross wind and torrential rain both sides struggled to play the ball on the ground and it was Rushall who made the most of the conditions as a rapid front two of Ahmed Obeng and Marcus Jackson tested the Pitmen back three.

It was Obeng who skipped through midfield and set up Matt Lewis to open the scoring on 13 minutes for The Pics.

Marvin Robinson raced onto a quality through ball by Jamey Osborne but scuffed his shot at Chris Gemmell before the home side doubled their advantage on 40 minutes when Obeng rounded Dan Crane with ease.

Curled

The Pitmen rallied in the second period, Osborne curled a shot over and Quinn saw his shot on the turn smothered by Gemmell as Hednesford went 4-3-3 to chase the game.

Quinn picked up a Jay Denny flick on to set up a frantic finish on 86 minutes and Chris Clements struck the upright from a curled free-kick on 90 minutes before Campion came just as close with a left footed shot which bounced wide off the foot of the post.

Rushall defended deep, marshalled by the impressive Lucian Spittle, and, despite incessant pressure the home side, just held on for three points.

Smith and Larry Chambers must use all their managerial experience to rally their Hednesford troops for an away trip to Ashton United on Saturday (September 11.
